ESCAPED BY A MIRACLE.

A Flying Train Runs Five Hundred Feet Over the Ties of the Panhandle.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 4.—A special from Piqua to the Dispatch says: The Panhandle passenger train No. 21 was wrecked two and a half miles east of the city this morning.

The train was coming down grade at the rate of forty miles an hour and in crossing the frog of the Jordan switch, left the track.

The engineer had the presence of mind to shut off the steam and apply the air-breaks.

The engine continued, notwithstanding, at a terrific rate of speed, tearing up the tracks and plowing the ground at a frightful rate.

For 570 feet, the engine bumped over the ties and then went into the ditch at the side of the main track.

The tender went in the opposite direction, while the baggage car was thrown crosswise on the track.

Two day coaches were crushed together.

The Pullman cars were also derailed but they escaped with little damage.

Eli Carroll, of Logansport, the engineer, was hurled 50 feet and fell on a portion of his cab.

Fireman John Baird, of Logansport, was pitched 75 feet over into a field. The engineer sustained a terrible scalp wound, remaining unconscious for some time. The fireman was hurt internally.

C. S. McGowan, the baggagemaster, whose home is at Logansport, was bruised about the hips by being penned in by trunks.

The wreck crews from Bradford and also from Columbus were summoned. A special train was provided to carry the passengers, all of whom escaped with but slight injuries, to their destination.

MET DEATH AT SEA.

The Sad Fate of Four Pound Fishermen Off Long Branch.

STRUCK BY A ROLLING WAVE

Seven Hardy Toilers Thrown in the Boiling Surges.

THREE THEN REGAIN THE BOAT

Desperate Efforts to Reach the Grounds Where Fish Are Caught.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Four men in the employ of Hennessy Bros., pound fisherman of Long Branch, N. J., were drowned to-day while about their work about 100 yards off shore. They were Joseph Perth, Adolph Pierson, and A. Hendrickson, all of Brooklyn, and Geo. Robbins of Marmouth Beach, N. J. Three other men who were with those drowned were rescued.

The sea along Long Branch had been very heavy preventing going out to the pounds since last Friday. As the weather was pleasant overhead this morning, they decided to try to reach the pounds. One boat in charge of Wm. Hennessy, one of the firm, succeeded in getting to the outer pound. A second in charge of Captain Smith and containing six other men, was about 100 yards from the beach when an immense wave struck the boat and, the seven men were thrown overboard. The first boat then put to the rescue. They found Captain Smith and John Johnson clinging to oars and pulled them aboard. Andrew Nelson was carried by the waves into shore and deposited on the beach near the Hennessy shed. He was nearly exhausted.

LAST OFFICER OF THE CONFEDERATE NAVY.

Death of Captain Chatard Who Fought on Sea for the South.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 4.—Captain Frederick Chatard, an old resident of St. Louis, and the oldest surviving officer of the Confederate navy, is dead at Mullanphy Hospital.

He was also thought to be the oldest surviving officer of the navy. Captain Chatard was born in Boston in 1807 and entered the United States navy in 1824 on the vessel Old North Carolina. He served continuously in the navy until the breaking out of the war when he resigned and joined the Confederate navy.

Big Brewery Assigns.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 4.—The Phoenix Brewing Company, one of the oldest brewing companies in the city, assigned today to C. C. Voight, with liabilities of $250,000 and assets slightly in excess of this sum. President C. M. Webber states that the failure was caused by the making of a number of attachments against them by Goepper & Co., a Cincinnati firm.

SAGASTA WILL CARRY OUT OLD REFORMS.

Will Not Consent to Customs Union With This Country.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—A special dispatch from Madrid published here this afternoon gives the substance of an interview between a newspaper correspondent and an unnamed member of the new Spanish cabinet. The latter is quoted as saying that Senor Sagasta will carry out the Cuban reforms proposed by Marshal Martinez de Campos ten years ago, but would not consent to a customs union between the United States and Cuba, and if the former was not satisfied Spain was prepared to fight, as the Spanish navy was regarded equal in strength to the navy of the United States.

In conclusion the new minister is alleged to have said that it was improbable that Spain would recognize the insurgent debt, but Premier Sagasta would not prevent the new Cuban government dealing with it.

THE BETTING IS SLOW.

Sports Are Not Inclined to Risk Much on the Big Fight.

(Special to the Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—The betting on the Dixon-Smith battle for the feather-weight championship of the world is slow today, as the Dixon men are not inclined to give odds.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the betting was a deadlock. Harry Corbett says the betting is the worst he has ever seen.

The betting was about 55 to 100 during the morning, and this afternoon it was 8½ to 15.

Tom Sharkey put up a few hundred on Smith at Corbett's this afternoon.

The mutuals are 50 to 1 against Smith not winning. Most of the money is being placed on the fight being a draw.

It is said that Green, the referee, will not count Smith out on points, and that if it lasts the twenty rounds it will be a draw.

Both men are in good condition.

The betting on Lawler and Williams is about even.

ANOTHER DANGER THREATENS SPAIN.

She May Yet Have to Go Through Another and Greater Revolution.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Evening Standard, commenting upon the Spanish crisis, expresses fear that the firm attitude assumed by the Queen Regent and the appointment of Senor Sagasta, to form a new cabinet are too late and that Spain has yet another revolution to go through, perhaps the most terrible of all.

Clothiers Assign.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 4.—Sachs and Morrison, wholesale clothiers, assigned today to Max B. May. The assets are stated to be $25,000; liabilities, $50,000. Chattel preferences were given to the amount of $8,800. Unexpected losses on contracts are said to be the cause of the assignment.

Police Pension Fund.

The Police Pension Fund Commissioners held their quarterly meeting this afternoon and allowed the following bills: G. C. Bert, $150; C. H. Cole, $150; John Barnet, $67.75.

PLENTY OF POLITICS.

Clerk Jordan's Withdrawal Has Created a Big Stir.

CAUCUSES NOW BEING HELD.

Many Candidates Come Into the Field at an Early Date.

FIGURING ON THE CHANCES.

All Kinds of Rumors About the Willing Office Seekers.

Now that the political pot has been set boiling by the withdrawal of County Clerk Frank C. Jordan from the arena, the politicians are industriously at work feeding the fire, and incidentally making as much capital out of the unexpected prominence given to county possibilities as the incident warrants.

All kinds of rumors are afloat and the candidates for the various offices are as numerous as bees on a honeysuckle vine.

Not alone this, for active campaign preparations are being made even at this early date. In fact it is authoritatively stated that one candidate has started to strengthen himself throughout the county by sending out trusted friends in buggies to visit the principal centers and at least officially launch his name.

But the caucuses are the principal things. There have been several of these already and more are coming. It is a fact that State politics figure prominently in the planning, for it is recognized that the gubernatorial contest has and will develop combinations which will, to say the least, be very useful.

This evening an important caucus will be held. Important, inasmuch as it will practically determine the man who is to secure the support of County Clerk Jordan and his following for the office which he will vacate. The selection will be backed up by good hard work and it means a great deal.

Though there are other names to be considered, the two prominent ones are T. F. Mock and Dave Sinclair. The former's chances are very much better than the latter's, and in fact it is pretty well conceded that Mock has the upper hand.

There are others warmly after the office, however, and prior to a nomination there is sure to be a bitter fight.

J. J. Hanifin, Jr., is out in earnest. He banks on having a large following in the county and of course expects to carry his delegation in the Fifth ward. Hanifin definitely announced his candidacy this morning.

There are many other names mentioned, but so far none have come out as avowed candidates. Councilman W. D. Heltmann, W. Graham of the First ward and several others are spoken of.

There has been some talk of Cal Ewing being a candidate for the office, but such is not a fact, for he is solely out for the office of County Auditor. In speaking of the matter today, he said:

"I have no ambition for the office of County Clerk. I intend to stick to my original intention and seek the nomination for Auditor."

County Clerk Jordan lends some additional interest to the contest for the clerkship when he says he will line up with the choice of his deputies for his vacated office.

"I will stand by the selection of the boys," he said today, "and I will do what I can to elect the man chosen. Another interest I have in the coming campaign is to see Harry Melvin elected District Attorney. I am backing him for the office. Of course, also, I will do my utmost for George C. Pardee for Governor, but this does not figure in the county fight particularly.

In regard to the rumors that George Woodsum would be a candidate for County Clerk, it has transpired that there is no ground for such an assertion other than that once he expressed a desire to run just to hamper Jordan's interests. It seems to have been a sort of spite-work proposition.

In the Fifth Ward a peculiar contest is waging. There are no less than three candidates of the office of County Auditor. J. Cal Ewing, Ed. Johnson and Harry Thomas, are the three. Johnson has more strength than some suppose. He is well and favorably known in the county and may have a string on other wards.

Candidates are also cropping up for the Assessorship. Henry Dalton wants to succeed himself and R. W. Snow and Robert Leckie would each like to take his place.

Then of course there are the other county officers. For Sheriff, a large number of names have been mentioned prominently among them, other than those already published, are Councilmen Con Brosnahan and William Watkinson.

The District Attorney's fight will be a warm one unless something is done between now and the time for the primary. Harry Melvin, Judge Allen and Justice Fred Clift are three prominent candidates.

E. K. Taylor of Alameda has been mentioned for the office, but those who ought to know, say he does not intend to run, but instead has his weather eye upon the Senate. It is argued that he would bring in votes from a solid Ala-

PULLED UP THE TRACK.

Extreme Measures Resorted to By the Mayor of Kansas City.

RAILS PUT DOWN ON SUNDAY.

The Courts Defied and the Rails Trespassed on City Property.

NO OPPOSITION EXPERIENCED.

The Chief Executive Personally Superintended the Undertaking.

By Associated Press to the Tribune.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 4.—Mayor Jas. M. Jones, with a gang of sixty men, today tore up 600 feet of track on the river front which the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company had laid between Saturday and daylight Sunday. The railroad company, it is claimed, had trespassed upon city land.

Mayor Jones personally supervised the destruction of the roadbed and was not opposed by the railroad people.

"I will repeat the operation," said the city's executive later, "as fast as the track is put down."

The action was taken on the authority of City Counsellor Middlebrook, who assured the Mayor that the railroad company had trespassed and that extreme measures were necessary.

MAY REPENT OF THEIR ATTACHMENTS.

A Federal Opinion That May Favor Unattaching Creditors.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—In the Federal Court of Appeals today Judge Woods handed down an opinion sustaining the action of Judge Grosscup in appointing a receiver for the C. P. Fargo Shoe Company, and setting aside the preferences of the U. S. Rubber Company, Candee & Co. and the Metropolitan National Bank.

The court also intimated that a full review of the case might disclose that the attaching creditors, on account of their attempts to shut out other creditors, should share after the unattaching creditors have been satisfied in full. The three judgment creditors represent claims amounting to $235,000 and outside creditors represent claims amounting to $100,000, while the assets will only reach $140,000.

MURDERER CAPTURED IN A SCALE PIT.

John Tally Confesses a Crime and Wants Speedy Justice.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

DENVER, Oct. 4.—A special to the Times from Silver City, N. M., says:

John Tally, the desperado who was implicated in the killing of Edward Moss and in other crimes last month, was captured at the White House ranch forty miles from this city yesterday evening. Several shots were exchanged between the sheriff's posse and the criminal, who was entrenched in the pit under a big platform scale.

Tally confessed to the killing of Ed Moss and said he hoped for a speedy trial and execution of sentence. The prisoner and posse arrived in the city at 8 o'clock this morning. Every one looks for a cessation of hostility by the cattle men.

LUETGERT YEARNS TO SPEAK.

Says He Can Prove Innocence in Less Than Three Hours.

EXPERTS ARE CONTRADICTORY

Chicago's Great Trial to Occupy at Least Another Month.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—The seventh week of the trial of Luetgert, the alleged wife murderer, opened today with an undiminished crush of people at the criminal court building. Only those who possessed tickets were admitted.

Less fortunate people tried to squeeze their way in with the lucky ticket holders. This plan brought several enthusiastic citizens into violent collision with the officers and hot arguments ensued in which the right of the Sheriff to exclude anyone from a public court room was excitedly disputed. The officers in charge of the entrances were inexorable and hundreds of men and women slowly filed out of the court house when the court room had been filled to its utmost capacity.

Luetgert greeted his attorneys and friends pleasantly and grinned at Police Inspector Schaack who regarded him coolly.

"I can stand this sort of thing a little time, so far as the physical endurance is concerned," said Luetgert, when complimented by Attorney Phalen upon his personal appearance. "But I wish it was over with," continued Luetgert as he sent a cloud of tobacco smoke in the air. "It wears on a man's nervous system, especially if the weather is warm as it has been during most of the time of my trial. I feel better since I recovered sufficiently from the injury to my leg to abandon the crutch. The crutch is an insufferable nuisance to a person who is not used to it."

"The trial will last at least three weeks longer," said States Attorney Deneen today. "When the defense closes we shall have at least a week of rebuttal evidence. Then the defense will come along with another week of the same kind of evidence. If we get through with the speeches in a week's time we shall be doing well."

Newspaper reporters who have been watching the Luetgert trial have organized a "Seesmoid Club." The members meet daily at the close of the trial and "shake the bones" for the cigars.

Professor Eckley of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Chicago was recalled today for cross examination upon several matters in connection with his identification of bones. His testimony was simply a repetition of that of other witnesses along the same line and he was not kept upon the witness stand long.

Professor Plummer, of the Northwestern Medical College gave evidence much to the liking of the defense. After a brief examination of the temporal bone introduced by the State, and positively identified by Professor Dorsey of the Field Columbian Museum as the right temporal of a woman, Dr. Plummer with emphasis declared the bone was not the temporal of a human being. "It bears but a very superficial resemblance to the human temporal," said the witness. "The line which has been identified as a facial nerve is simply a trace which indicates that two bones have been joined or glued together. I notice what appears to me to be vegetable matter. It is of a somewhat greenish tint peculiar to vegetable matter—and to no other matter." The bone which has been identified by the experts of the physical profession as a human femur was handed to Dr. Plummer and without hesitation he denied that it was a femur of the human race.

"It resembles in a slight degree a human femur," said the witness, "but the bone is much smaller than the average femur of a human. There are other distinct characteristics of the human femur missing." One of the incidents of the trial today was the sawing of a temporal bone by Dr. Peirce and Dr. Riese. The operation was watched by Assistant States Attorney McElwan for the prosecution and Ex-Judge Vincent for the defense. The surgeons were slow and Judge Tuthill, growing impatient, sent a bailiff after them, remarking: "Those fellows have been out there long enough to saw a cord of wood." The battle of the bones was waged all day, one set of experts disputing identifications and theories of another. Luetgert is not likely to go on the witness stand until next week. The big prisoner is still impatient to tell his story. On this point his enthusiasm never cools.

"In three hours' time I could convince that jury of my innocence," said Luetgert today. "I will give it to them straight and make liars of many people when I get on the stand. They won't send Luetgert to the gallows. My story will make everything plain."

SIX SLAIN IN DEATH'S CUT

A Horrible Fatality on the Rail Near the City of Willow Springs.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WILLOW SPRINGS, Mo., Oct. 4.—A prairie schooner containing seven persons was run down to-day in Deadman's cut by a train on the Fort Scott and Memphis road.

Six of the persons were instanly killed and the seventh fatally injured.

Those killed were:

PHILLIP L. WOOTON.
PHILLIP WOOTON, JR.
AMANDA WOOTON.
DORA WOOTON.
MRS. FRANCES WILBREY.
INFANT CHILD, four months old.

Phillip Wooton's wife is so badly hurt that she cannot live.

The train was stopped and the remains of the dead and injured were brought here.

Conductor Hallaway says proper signals for crossings were given but they were not heard.

The crossing is considered one of the most dangerous in the country, being a curve and a heavy grade. The bodies are now in charge of the Coroner here. The persons lived in Missouri, and were on their way to Arkansas to pick cotton.

A SWEEPING DECISION BY A KANSAS JUDGE.

The Kansas City Stockyards Said to Be a Trust.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

TOPEKA, Kas., Oct. 4.—Judge Foster today handed down his opinion in the Kansas City stock yards case, in which he decided against the company on every legal question raised.

The opinion is very sweeping, and the decision is a complete victory for Attorney General Boyle.

The Stock Yards Company will appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

J. J. Shepherd Accuses a Creditor of Much Unmanly Work.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 4.—John J. Shepherd, the local capitalist and member of the firm of Charles H. Potter & Co., was placed under arrest this morning by Constable Hudson of Justice Landers' court. The warrant charges him with embezzlement.

Frank Dehaas Robinson swore to the allegations contained in the warrant. Following close upon the issue of the warrant came a petition filed in the Common Pleas Court asking for a receiver for the firm of Charles H. Potter & Co., on a claim for $991,000. This action was likewise brought by Frank Dehaas Robinson.

Judge Ong appointed Alexis Taylor receiver, exacting a bond of $25,000. The claim upon which a receiver is asked is alleged to be due for street railway stock in the Fort Wayne Consolidated Street Railway, which Mr. Robinson says the firm owes him.

In the warant for Mr. Shepherd's arrest, he says that Mr. Shepherd held money and property to the amount and value of $188,289; $211,000 worth of first mortgage bonds for the Fort Wayne Consolidated Street Railway Company of which he made no accounting. The value of the bonds is placed at $95,000. Mr. Robinson alleges in his petition that the defendants are hopelessly insolvent; that they owe twenty different banks and as many individuals, aggregating a sum of more than $2,000,000 borrowed money.

To a reporter, Mr. Shepherd said: "This thing has been hanging fire for over a year. For years I have worked hard. I have been up and down the ladder time and time again. I am a poor man now without a cent in the world. Since my failure I have been making just enough money to keep my family. Frank Robinson knows that I am penniless. I acknowledge that I owe him money, but I do not owe him a cent that I ever obtained fraudulently as he alleges in the warrant.

"When I failed last year I turned over every cent I had in the world, amounting to over $200,000 in securities to my creditors. Since then their market value has gone down. I was made president of the Fort Wayne Consolidated Railway Co. with full power to financier its operations. The panic of '93 and '96 came on and in my effort to weather it I did everything in my power. If I had won, Robinson would have declared me a Napoleon of finance. I lost, and this is the result."

Mr. Shepherd was the representative in Ohio of the late Henry S. Ives, during the latters celebrated railway deals a few years ago.

"The return indicates that we are approaching a time when the shipments of gold from Europe will commence, especially as lately there has been a check in buying American securities for New York account. Any such outflow will, we believe, affect first, by arrangement, the Bank of France."

LEGAL ADVICE.

District Attorney Snook Gives a Reply to the Supervisors.

CHURCH'S MOTION DROPPED.

County Assessor Henry Dalton Will Probably Not Be Sued.

ROETH MAKES REDUCTIONS.

He Aims a Big Cut at The Surveyor's Bills for Maps.

At this morning's session of the Board of Supervisors, District Attorney Snook filed his opinion relative to whether or not County Assessor Dalton was liable for the taxes of the unassessed Water Front Company's property. The opinion was a written one, and was given at the request of Supervisor Church, who introduced a resolution at the last meeting of the Board authorizing the District Attorney to sue the County Assessor for the taxes.

The District Attorney was not present this morning but his answer was most diplomatic. It was received smilingly by Supervisor Church and in silence by other members of the Board.

The opinion was as follows:

"My opinion has been asked as to the effect of Section 3660 of the Political Code wherein it is recited that 'the Assessor and his deputies are liable on his official bond for all taxes on property within the county, which, through his wilful failure or neglect, is unassessed,' with reference to said section as appertaining to resolution concerning Water Front Company.

"Our code provides that the word 'willful' when applied to the intent with which an act is done or omitted, implies simply a purpose or willingness to commit the act or make the omission referred to.

"The word 'negligence' means a want of such attention to the nature or probable consequence of the act of omission as a prudent man ordinarily bestows in acting in his own concerns.

"An application of the definitions of the words 'willful' and 'neglect' as applied to Section 3660 makes the meaning of said Section very plain.

"Before any suit for taxes can be brought authority should be had from the Board of Supervisors to the District Attorney to comply with Section 3661 of said Political Code."

"The District Attorney has omitted something," observed Supervisor Mitchell at the conclusion of the reading of this opinion. 'He might have stated that an application should have been made by a taxpayer. I think we had better file this opinion."

This view of the matter was concurred in by the other Supervisors and the opinion of the District Attorney was placed on file.

Supervisor Roeth introduced a resolution aimed at the County Surveyor. The resolution placed the compensation of copying maps in the County Recorder's office at $100 per month.

"The Board of Supervisors has no authority to fix my fees," said County Surveyor Nusbaumer, "the State law does that. I am allowed $10 a day for copying maps but heretofore I have charged only $7 per day for my services."

"We are not trying to cut the surveyor's fee," explained Roeth, "but the County Recorder can have the copying done by someone else. It is not absolutely necessary that the recorder call on the surveyor."

"The Supervisor doesn't know anything about the law if he says that," retorted Nusbaumer, "and I advise him to consult with the District Attorney."

"Well, the Finance Committee held that the law gave us the power to furnish prices for the compensation," said Roeth.

"I will say as a member of the Finance Committee that we thought some of the bills a little high," said Supervisor Mitchell, "and I intended to investigate. I did not know anything about Mr. Roeth's resolution, but doubtlessly he has investigated. Still in view of the statements made by Mr. Nusbaumer, I believe this resolution should be referred to the District Attorney."

Roeth agreed to this proposition and the District Attorney will report next week.

Supervisor Church intends to have matters at the Receiving Hospital rearranged. He made a motion that the Hospital Committee re-arrange the rules and regulations of the Receiving Hospital.

"Does that motion mean, that the chairman of the committee or the committee, will have the power to change the rules?" queried Roeth.

"This motion explains itself," said Church. The vote was then called for and the motion prevailed.

The consideration of the printing schedule was again postponed for one week. Supervisor Talcott reported, giving expert Wade's opinion on the question of prices.

"As far as the prices paid for labor is concerned," said he, "Mr. Wade thinks there should be no reduction from the prices of former years. The supplies, the material proper, could perhaps be obtained at a somewhat lower figure. The pencil figures those of Mr. Phillips, were nearer correct than the figures proposed by Mr. Roeth if we aimed to do justice by the county and the contractors. Mr. Wade suggested that if we did not desire figures on smaller amounts to cut them out, otherwise, to use Mr. Roeth's figures for small quantities would merely result in no printer taking the contract. The lower figures were unjust."

"Mr. Wade's report is all right," said Supervisor Roeth. "We wish to cut out this letting of small contracts. I would move that all schedule prices for quantities under 1,000 by stricken from the schedule."

"The Clerk has recommended that certain blanks be ordered in quantities less than 1,000," said Talcott, "and I think we better make the exceptions that he asks for and I further recommend a 6 per cent cut on pencil figures for materials."

"As I understand the law does not permit me to strike out all figures below 1,060," said Wells.

The District Attorney's opinion was asked and he stated that the Board could do as it liked in this regard. After a little more discussion it was decided to postpone further consideration for one week.

Contracts for road work were given out this morning after the bids had been opened.

For constructing a culvert across Rose avenue, the following bids were received: Buckman Contracting Co., $800; E. B. Stone, $330; Cotton Bros, $380; W. J. Schmidt, $298; Bernard Ransome, $335; Kimball G. Easton, $288. The contract was awarded to W. J. Schmidt.

E. B. Stone's bid for the improving and grading of High street was accepted.

Bids were received as follows: Easton & Wilson, $5,166; W. J. Schmidt, $4,675; E. B. Stone, $4,489; Buckman Contracting Company, $5,210.

E. B. Stone was granted an extension of fifteen days in which to complete the laying of pipe on the Haywards road.

REQUISITIONS GRANTED.

The requisition for certain surgical implements for use at the County Infirmary was granted. Supervisor Church announced that the instruments were absolutely imperative.

Superintendent of Schools J. P. Garlick's requisition for a stove and envelopes was referred to the proper committees.

Sheriff White's requisition for prisoners' clothing was granted. His requisition for a new floor in the grand jury corridor was referred to the Building Committee.

Engineer Ingois of the Court House made a requisition for new supplies, which was granted.

Dr. W. A. Clark, Superintendent of the County Infirmary, filed a report for September, showing forty-three new patients, six died, forty-six discharged, 228 present September 1st, 219 remaining. Cash received $24.85, cash expended $92.25.

F. A. Berlin tendered a deed of Virginia avenue, to be used as a public highway. The offer was referred to the District Attorney.

A petition was received asking that John E. Rencke be appointed nightwatchman for the County Tax Collector. The petition was filed.

LIQUOR LICENSES.

Liquor licenses were granted to John C. Levin, Haywards road, and Andrew Hanson, San Leandro.

Applications for liquor licenses were received from Chas. Silva, San Leandro road; John Dugan, Elmhurst, and O. C. Fox, Elmhurst.

George O. Streeter, an old G. A. R. man, applied for a free license to peddle, which was granted.

REPORTS FILED.

A CITY BUYER.

Mayor Thomas Will Advocate the Appointment of One for Oakland.

Mayor W. R. Thomas is investigating the matter of creating the office of City Buyer for Oakland. He has been in correspondence with the Mayors of other cities (—— same time, and he announces that he is very much in favor of the idea.

The Mayor of Louisville, Kentucky, has replied that the City Buyer of that city has saved the city $15,000 in a single year. The city has a store-house in Louisville, and the buyer does his purchasing when prices are at the lowest.

Mayor Thomas thinks that the buying might be left in the hands of the Board of Public Works.

Tonight's Meetings.

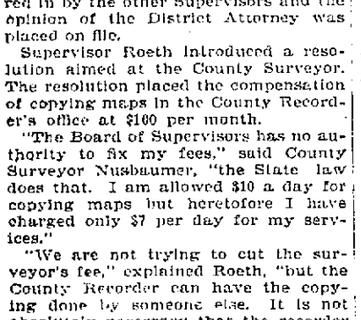

There will be meetings of the City Council and City Board of Education in their respective chambers this evening.

Among the matters to be considered by the Council are the new house numbering ordinance of Superintendent of Streets Miller, and a new ordinance establishing the license of the bottling works of the city. At present the bottlers are paying the regular retail liquor licenses and this they believe is too much.

Arrested for Battery.

James Keefe, a fireman, was arrested today on a charge of battery preferred by Mrs. Lena Smith, an old lady who conducts a grocery store in North Oakland. The arrest was made at 680 Thirtieth street by officer Bert Curtiss. Keefe denies all knowledge of the affair

A Stamp of Respectability

Nothing so quickly stamps the individual as the baggage he carries Slovenly, wornout valises are an abomination to the traveler. No one need be ashamed to carry the hand bags we sell. There has not been for many years an opportunity of buying from such a splendid line as we are showing now, and the price makes them doubly attractive.

UNION WORKMEN REPUDIATE ANARCHY.

Refuse to Take Any Part in the Haymarket Memorial.

By Four to One the Invitation to Participate Is Rejected.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Anarchists who are arranging for a demonstration in memory of the men executed for the Haymarket massacre, have dropped a bomb so to speak into the Council of the Chicago Federation of Labor by asking for the official endorsement and co-operation of union labor.

The invitation stirred up a half-hour's violent debate. The executed anarchists were declared to be both the brothers and enemies of man as fast as succeeding speakers could get the floor and express themselves.

At length the High council of union labor went upon record by repudiating any implied fraternity between unionism and anarchy, and flatly refused to take any part in the coming exercises. The invitation to take part in the memorial services was rejected by a vote of about 4 to 1. After the vote a majority of the anarchistic element left the hall in a body.

The anarchists will hold the memorial meeting as usual, but it is expected the gathering will be a tame affair.

ANOTHER SESSION OF THE GRAND JURY.

The Roeth Question Will Again Come Up for Some Consideration.

The Grand Jury will reassemble tomorrow and will resume its consideration of the charges made against Supervisor Roeth with respect to the conduct of road matters in his district. At the meeting on Tuesday last, there were present a large number of residents of Piedmont who gave evidence in the case. Another batch of residents of that section will be on hand to-morrow. Among them will be James McClure, Martin Miller, Chris Christiansen, T. Treth, P. J. Keller, Thomas Bennett, Angelo Mapio, Al Hopkins, John Anderson, and S. T. Wilber.

DEATH WAS THE PENALTY HE SUFFERED.

The Fate of the Despoiler of a Respectable Home.

End of Dr. J. W. Norris, Who Was Shot at St. Louis.

By Associated Press to the Tribune.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 4.—Dr. J. W. Norris of Palmyra, who several months ago was shot by Daniel Rose, a respected citizen of that town for clandestinely entering the bedroom of the latter's daughter, died here today as the result of the wound.

He was shot in the back, the bullet lodging near the spinal cord. This produced a complete paralysis of the lower part of Dr. Norris' body.

Several days ago he was brought here to the Baptist Sanitarium and the X-ray was used in an attempt to find the bullet. In this the doctors were unsuccessful and they perfected the operation of Laminectoly, from which Norris did not recover.

Rose was honorably acquitted by a jury.

JEALOUSY LEADS TO MURDER AND SUICIDE.

An Advertising Agent Cuts His Wife's Throat and Kills Himself.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—During a quarrel today Wm. McCaleb, an advertising agent, murdered his wife by cutting her throat with a razor. He then shot himself in the left breast and through the head and died two hours later. Jealousy is supposed to have been the motive.

PLENTY OF POLITICS

meda delegation, possibly half of Murray Township, and all of Brooklyn. If he can, he has things his own way apparently and may not want a hard and expensive contest for the District Attorney's office.

Dr. Baldwin has come out with a declaration to the effect that he wants to be Coroner again, and almost all of the other office-holders in the county, express a similar intention concerning their respective places.

Much more could be said about the political atmosphere, but is several months ahead of time to be too enthusiastic. If it had not been for County Clerk Jordan's published determination to quit politics for good, nothing of an immediate nature would have cropped out. It is safe to say that a few weeks or days will suffice to quiet matters for a while.

LOSS OF LIFE ON THE RAIL IN THE SOUTH.

A Louisville Train Jumps the Track and Kills the Fireman.

The Accident Caused by a Switch Which Was Not In Condition.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NAHSVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 4.—A Montgomery special to the Banner says: "Passenger train No. 2 on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, leaving here at 8:30 A. M., jumped the track at Riverside Park just outside the city, killed Gus Boyde, a colored fireman, seriously injured Jim Brown, engineer, of Decatur, and bruised Bill Glassier, postal clerk of Nashville. A split switch, it is said, caused the accident.

The engine turned over and caught the fireman. The engineer jumped in time. The mail car was badly torn up by a rail which doubled back.

HEARING THE TRIAL OF THE BEBAN CASE.

The Demurrer Is Overruled by Judge Greene This Morning.

Another wheel was taken to-day out of the case of Alameda county against Mrs. Mary Beban and Mrs. Ross, the sureties on the bond of Root, the gold brick man who skipped his bail nearly a year ago. The demurrer to the complaint came up for argument this morning before Judge Greene and was overruled. The defendant must now answer and the answer will be filed within twenty days and then will come a chance for a speedy trial.

Root has not been heard from here lately, though from the number of gold brick swindles which are detailed in the Eastern papers, it is presumed the wily swindler is still practicing his profession.

TRIED TO KILL THE PASSENGERS.

A Federal Soldier Goes Insane While on a Train.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 4.—While en route to this city from Portland, Oregon, John Shanahan, a Federal soldier, became violently insane early this morning and attempted to kill a number of passengers and trainmen on the Oregon express.

Shanahan was honorably discharged last week. The insane man fired a revolver at the train men and terrorized passengers. He was finally overpowered. When the train reached this city he was placed in jail.

A LIVELY FIRE IN COLUSA.

The Aggregate Loss Will Reach the Sum of Three Thousand.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

COLUSA, Cal., Oct. 4.—At 1:15 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the Sacramento restaurant, which soon enveloped and destroyed the tin store of E. N. Kimball above the restaurant. Will Wright's saloon and Justice Ashby's law office and all its documents. Williams' Hotel and the Catholic Church were saved, although they caught fire four or five times. There was but little insurance. The damage was $3,000.

ENGLISH VIEWS OF NEW YORK'S MAYOR.

Prediction That Anarchists Will Elect Henry George.

Another Prophet Thinks That the Americans Will Win.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The newspapers here generally pay more attention to the New York political campaign, publishing long dispatches and editorials on the subject. The Globe says:

"Judging from the Times dispatch, Henry George will be the next Mayor. The Americans do not exceed a quarter of the whole population, and the European Anarchists, Socialists, Italians, Poles, Hungarians and Russians, all the very lowest of their race, will support the man whose childish economics and wild theories are detested in every capital in Europe. These being the people who sway public opinion, it is the height of absurdity to rave about blood being thicker than water."

The Pall Mall Gazette article is written by an American and concludes by stating that the Americans will win.

RICH RETURNS FOR THE GOOD PLAYERS.

Some Individual Rewards in the Temple Baseball Contest.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—The conditions of the competition for the Temple cup between the club winning the National League championship and the club having the best record are the best four games in seven, the winning club to receive 60 per cent of the net receipts to be equally divided between all the players of the club.

The first three games are to be played on consecutive days, weather permitting, on the grounds of the new champions, the Bostons, and the next is an open date.

The last three games, or as many of them as may be required to decide the championship may be played either at Baltimore or New York, as the clubs decide.

AN AIR SHIP OF PAPER AND BAMBOO.

The Find of Two Hunters in the Hills Back of Piedmont.

It Was Covered Up With Paper and Hidden Among the Bushes.

That the airship fantasy is not yet dead was demonstrated Friday by the find of one of these mysterious machines by two hunters, Firman D. Hinds and his son, Edgar Hinds, who reside at 1103 Twelfth street. The two were strolling about in the hills back of Piedmont when they came upon something of curious shape covered up with paper and hidden away in the bushes. They cautiously uncovered the mysterious thing, and guessed at once that it was intended to be an airship. According to Edgar Hinds' description, it was about four or five feet long and about four feet high. It was made of oiled paper and bamboo. He was positive it was no boy's kite or similar invention, because innumerable small fans were attached to it while four large fans lay beside it on the ground.

It was evidently not completed or else not repaired since a recent flight, for it was somewhat battered. That it had been tried was evident from its condition. Mr. Hinds did not observe whether there was a steering apparatus, but thought not. There were no tools lying around, but there was some wire, evidently intended to be used in the construction of the ship.

Both Mr. Hinds and his son were greatly puzzled over the find, but made haste to cover it up for fear of the appearance of the inventor, of whom there was absolutely no clue.

A NOBLE WOMAN GONE.

Mrs. Helen Cornwall Passes Away at Her Home in This City.

Mrs. Helen F. Cornwall, widow of the late Dr. Ambrose Cornwall, died at her home in this city Saturday.

Mrs. Cornwall was a woman well known in this city. She was a prominent member of the Ebell Society, was a vice regent of the Oakland Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution and was a devoted worker in the woman's cause.

She was ever ready to lend her assistance to the sick and needy and she had hosts of friends in all classes.

Mrs. Cornwall was born in Maine fifty-five years ago. For a number of years she had been afflicted with heart trouble, to which her death was due.

A large number of sorrowing friends gathered at the late residence, 1328 Webster street at two o'clock this afternoon to pay their last tribute to the departed. The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful.

A Little Girl Found.

BUSWELL'S CASE IS DISMISSED.

In the Equalization Matter the Supervisors' Action Was Legal.

The case of Buswell vs. the Supervisors of Alameda County was dismissed in the Superior Court this morning at the motion of the plaintiff.

The suit was began something over two years ago. It was heard by Judge Ellsworth and went to the Supreme Court whence a remittitur was received sometime ago.

The case grew out of the action of the State Board of Equalization extending the time for the equalization of taxes by the Supervisors of this county, acting as a Board of Equalization. After the extension of time, the equalization of taxes by the Supervisors of this county, acting as a Board of Equalization. After the extension of time, the equalization of the county taxes was effected. Buswell felt that the action of the State Board extending the time was illegal and brought suit to have it set aside by the court. Judge Ellsworth did not agree with the petitioner hence the appeal.

In its decision, the Supreme Court held with the appellant in every point save that the levy made by the Supervisors was legal because it was not made beyond the limit of time during which the State Board had power to grant an extension.

Under those circumstances, the attorneys of Mr. Buswell concluded there was nothing to be gained in a re-trial of the case.

FOUND ON THE BEACH.

The Body of an Unknown Man Is Washed Ashore at Alvarado.

The body of an unknown man was found on the beach six miles below Alvarado, this morning, by a Chinese fisherman.

The Chinaman reported the matter to J. E. Graham, an engineer on a steamer that plies between the salt works and San Francisco, and Graham notified Justice of the Peace Richmond of Alvarado, who in turn notified the Coroner.

It will be impossible to recover the remains till tomorrow morning. On the remains were a gray sack coat, gray trousers and a gray shirt. The body weighs about 160 pounds. Some fifty feet away from the body was found a small hunting knife.

The remains are badly decomposed and one side of the face is eaten away.

Deputy Coroner Geary of Haywards will go for the remains when the tide permits tomorrow morning.

Twelve New Cases Reported in the City of New Orleans.

FAILURE OF EXPERT VISITS.

Only One Councilman in Edwards Has Immunity From the Plague.

QUARANTINE IS ENFORCED.

Doctors Who Visited Patients Leave Their Homes During the Infliction.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 4.—Up to 1:30 P. M. today twelve new cases and no deaths have been reported to the Board of Health. It is anticipated that numerous cases will be reported today because the Board of Health is no longer sending its experts to see all the cases reported. When the fever was first reported the experts were ordered to carefully diagnose each case, but the Board no longer considers this necessary. To visit each case the experts would have to abandon their own practice entirely. As matters stand now the diagnosis of the physician called in is taken as determining the nature of a case. It is therefore probable that many cases of a trifling type will be reported. The New Orleans members of the Legislature, country members who can get here and the City Council will confer tonight on giving more money for the Board of Health. The State authorities will provide money through the fiscal agents if the consent of the Legislature can be obtained.

The Marine Hospital is disinfecting today twelve carloads of freight for Texas via New York. The steam chamber infecting plant for mails was tried yesterday at the private office. Newspapers and fabrics were thoroughly disinfected.

The Board of Health will discuss this evening the scheduled arrival of three hundred Sicilian immigrants.

DOCTORS LEAVE THEIR OWN TOWNSPEOPLE.

They Feared to Go Among Them After Visiting a Fever Patient.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Oct. 4.—Dr. Sanosmand and Undertaker Fisher left for Cincinnati today in accordance with the instructions of the State and city Boards of Health, because they had visited Nitta Yuma after the outbreak of the fever. Both men agreed that it was best to leave town. Public health continues excellent, with warm, dry weather and no prospects of frost. An experienced nurse was sent to Nitta Yuma today, also a doctor.

The valley road runs between Vicksburg and Memphis via its Riverside division, thus avoiding Nitta Yuma altogether.

Only One Councilman Is Free From the Racking Disease.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

EDWARDS, Miss., Oct. 4.—No new cases reported today. V. L. Moss, whose name appears in the list of new cases, has been acting Mayor on account of Mayor Redfield's illness. There is only one member of the City Council on his feet today. The fever seems to grow more violent every day and a relapse is one of the worst features to be feared. Already several deaths have been caused from relapse. Mrs. G. W. Redfield, Sr., died at 1 o'clock This is the fifth death in the Redfield family.

The suit of Annie Glud and Paul C. Glud against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company has been compromised and dismissed.

At the instance of Lydia S. Ingram, a niece of the deceased, Judge Ogden has issued a citation for Amos Larkin to show cause why he should not be removed from the position of executor of the estate of the late Stephen Larkin.

The estate of the late Mary Jane Evoy has been appraised at $25,153.05.

The final report of J. H. Bruns, executor of the will of the late Theodore F. Hering, shows receipts to the amount of $465.09 and expenditures of $523.58.

The Commercial Bank has sued to foreclose a mortgage on Berkeley property given to secure a note for $7,000.

Julia T. Moss, trustee under the will of J. Mora Moss, deceased, has sued to foreclose a mortgage given George W. Haight and others to secure a note for $3,000.

Valentin and Augustin Bernal, executors of the estate of Almagracia Bernal, have empowered S. Salz to dispose of the real estate belonging to the estate of the Rancho El Valle de San Jose, comprising 1,655 acres.

OUR LATTER DAYS.

A cloudy morning and a golden eve,
Warm with the glow that never lingers long—
Such is our life; and who would pause to grieve
Over a tearful day that ends in song?

The dawn was gray, and dim with mist and rain;
There was no sweetness in the chilly blast:
Dead leaves were strewn along the dusky lane
That led us to the sunset light at last.

'Tis an old tale, beloved; we may find
Heart stories all around us just the same.
Speak to the sad, and tell them God is kind;
Do they not tread the path through which we came?

Our youth went by in recklessness and haste,
And precious things were lost as soon as gained;
Yet patiently our Father saw the waste,
And gathered up the fragments that remained.

Taught by his love, we learnt to love aright;
Led by his hand, we passed through dreary ways;
And now how lovely is the mellow light
That shines so calmly on our latter days!

WOMAN SUFFRAGISTS.

Annual State Convention to Open Tomorrow for Two Days.

The annual convention of the Woman's State Suffrage Association will be held tomorrow and Wednesday at Golden Gate Hall, San Francisco. There will be two sessions daily at 10:30 A. M. and 2 P. M.

Tuesday afternoon a programme will be rendered. The speakers will be Dr. A. M. Beecher, Mrs. C. S. Sanford, Dr. E. S. Chapman, Albert Elliot, Mrs. E. O. Smith of San Jose, Judge Maguire, James Denman. Mrs. Marriner-Campbell will have charge of the music.

Wednesday morning officers will be elected.

It is hoped that many will attend, the public in general being invited.

The Oakland delegates are Mrs. Waymire of Alameda, Mrs. J. C. Campbell, Mrs. R. C. Craft, Mrs. F. Schlingheyder, Mrs. E. G. Stebbins, Mrs. Lloyd Baldwin.

VEHICLES COLLIDE.

Mrs. G. Leprotti Injured in an Electric Car Accident.

As the result of an accident near Blair's Park yesterday, Mrs. G. Leprotti, proprietress of a laundry at New Broadway and Columbus avenue, is confined to her home with a badly lacerated leg and a number of severe bruises about the body.

Mrs. Leprotti was driving in her laundry wagon in front of a Piedmont electric car, when an ice wagon being driven across the track caused Mrs. Leprotti to stop her team. As she did so the electric car crashed into the rear of her wagon, and all three of the vehicles mixed up. The wagons were considerably damaged, but Mrs. Leprotti was the only person injured.

Police Court Notes.

D. G. Lane celebrated his Sunday by freely indulging in malt extracts. Having to a certain extent satisfied his thirst, he got into his buggy and drove furiously through the streets of East Oakland. He ran across officer McKeegan, and this morning he forfeited $10.

There were eight other drunks in the dock this morning, but Judge Allen was in a good humor, and judgment was suspended in five cases. Two were given 5 or three days, and one was made to pay $2.

Legault's Second Trial.

J. I. Legault, who is charged with setting fire to his grocery store at Thirty-fourth and Adeline streets on the night of July 27th, will have his second preliminary examination October 5th. He was held to answer by Judge Allen, but the information was not filed within thirty days after the commitment, and the Superior Court held that all proceedings in the case would have to be repeated.

A Chinese Found Dead.

Gee Fong, an aged celestial, who has been ill for several years, was found dead at the Chinese laundry at Twentieth street and San Pablo avenue early this morning. He was found seated in a back room of the laundry. Death was probably due to heart disease.

Coroner Baldwin will hold an inquest this afternoon.

"Smooth as oil," exquisitely flavored, absolutely pure, never a headache in it, equally valuable as a beverage or a medicine—such is the famous old Jesse Moore Whiskey.

MONDAY.....OCTOBER 4, 1897.

The East reports a scarcity of greenbacks. Same here in the West.

Mark Twain has got the gout. Now let him try and write something funny.

It is not a case of "Come early and avoid the rush" at football games—it's come and enjoy it.

Santa Cruz reports an earthquake shock. It was probably the rebound of her recent powder works explosion.

Even the bakers have formed a trust. Now, if they will extend the same privilege to their patrons, all will be well.

The many mysteries of sausage-making have been made more apparent than ever since the Luetgert case went to trial.

A local society paper gives as its front page star engraving a fine view of San Quentin. Will its patrons consider it personal?

London's new Lord Mayor is an owner of oyster fisheries. He ought to know something about keeping his mouth shut at the proper time.

It was always prophesied that before the century closed the long-sought two-minute horse would be found. It looks as if Star Pointer will do the trick.

It now takes two and one-half Mexican dollars to equal in value one American dollar. We will soon get around to that sixteen to one proposition after all.

The ducks have discovered by this time that their mortality rate has taken a sudden and alarming increase. Feathers are flying, and the bon-vivant is happy.

Sierra county's tax levy is in accordance with her altitude. It is $3.20, the highest in the State. The lowest levy this year is Glenn, the rate there being only $1.35.

It is certainly worth $3000 to have Oakland renumbered. Superintendent Miller's plan should receive unqualified support at the meeting of the Council this evening.

They want something more solid than whisky up in the Clondyke country, yet a large proportion of the "supplies" sent in there consists of the red liquor. All it will do will be to help to madden the miners when they are starving.

Despite the fact that the Yukon river is at hand, they even make the prospectors up north pay high for water. It is quoted now at five cents a gallon. Whisky heads the list in the liquid line. It retails at $15 a bottle.

The Post heads up a seasonable article with "Game Birds Indisposed to be Shot." When those indisposed birds are shot we hope that some food inspector will be on hand to see that they never get an opportunity to reach the home table.

The widening of Fourteenth street at Market will be a very desirable improvement. The present zig-zag has well been termed an eyesore and as the thoroughfare is one of the most important in the city, the Council has done well in speeding the matter along.

Lieutenant Peary, the explorer, says that the Esquimaux who dwell at the most northern inhabited point of the polar region are known as Arctic Highlanders. Kilts are evidently eschewed by the clans up there, though, as bare legs and a temperature of 60 degrees below zero do not harmonize as a rule.

Of course, it is folly to talk of closing the Deaf, Dumb, and Blind Institute at Berkeley just because a Legislative slip was made as regards the apportionment of its appropriations. A temporary arangement can be made as regards the funds and at the next session of the Legislature the whole matter can be straightened out without hitch or opposition.

Peter Jackson has got a new kind of knock-out on his hands. The Afro-American League is going to back him up in his fight against the San Francisco hotel people who refused to accommodate him on account of his color, and as they will spar under the new Civil Rights rules with a judge for referee, Peter ought to be the favorite in the betting.

It won't be for lack of candidates if New York doesn't get a good Mayor. Every organization that has a party name to it is putting up a man and the result will be such a splitting of votes that Tammany may get a little the best of it, for the leaders of that order are able to keep their forces pretty well in hand. As things look now, though, Seth Low's candidacy is the one to bet on.

It looks as if all the different varieties of criminals are endeavoring to participate in the return of prosperity. Burglaries and hold-ups are reported all over the country and right on the heels of our California stage robberies comes the report of the daring hold-up of a train on the Rock Island Road. Apparent opportunities to get money without working for it are dangerous temptations for the evilly-inclined.

THE SHOOTING SEASON.

From now on, during the winter and early spring months, the hunter will be in the full flush of his glory. True, he has had plenty of opportunities as far as big game like deer are concerned, for some time past, but then, hunting of that description has almost gone out of vogue in California, for it is the Sierra counties a deer is as scarce hardly worth "the candle." Outside of as $1000 greenbacks, for the settlement of the State has done away with almost all the wilds and fastnesses where the royal buck and gentle doe once held undisputed sway.

It is to duck and quail that the Nimrod of to-day turns when he seeks for sport. It is scarcely necessary to protect the duck by law outside of the very first part of the season, for the flocks do not summer here as a rule and generally only get in from the north a short time before the legal barriers are let down in favor of the hunters. This small game furnishes after all fully as interesting sport and certainly more substantial returns than the larger varieties. With a pair of gum boots, a good dog, and a shot-gun, almost any of the marsh lands of the State can be invaded to advantage during the winter months for the birds are plentiful and the only question is to get them after they fall. What is more palatable, too, than an eighteen-minute canvasback, or a carefully broiled teal with a dash of red pepper and lemon juice to give it an added flavor. The dish can certainly hold its own with the haunches of venison that made the mouths of our forefathers water in the days when they gathered around the camp-fires and made the first chapters of the history of California.

During this first part of the season it is well to protect the birds from the indiscriminate slaughter that invariably attends their first appearance and some of the counties have done well to take advantage of the leeway afforded by the statutes and to extend for a brief period the limits of the close season. Alameda and San Mateo counties have taken this stand and have prohibited shooting before October 15th while in Fresno, Madera, Orange, San Benito, Santa Barbara, and Ventura counties market hunting is prohibited altogether. This will have a tendency to keep the supply of birds limited for awhile, but it means all the more later on, so in view of the ultimate benefits we can afford to wait without complaint.

Outside of desiring to help the Valley road along the desirability of its securities from a financial standpoint is very forcibly apparent. At the sale last week of the first monthly instalment of the new bonds, demands exceeding them many times over were presented. This must be very encouraging to the directors and will be a great factor in inducing them to construct the many needed extensions of the road. The location of a bay terminus at Oakland should be next on the list.

Society will lose one of its greatest annual opportunities to display itself if the directors of the Horse-Show Association continue in their present mood of holding no exhibition this year. Though the receipts at the shows have always been good, they have nowhere near met the expenses, and it is to this lack of the needful that the present doleful status of affairs in that direction must be ascribed.

Still the good news pours in. The total number of business failures in the United States for the nine months of the year ending last week was thirteen per cent smaller than during the corresponding period last year. Business in New York has increased 27.4 per cent and the Western States are flourishing from a commercial point of view more than at any time in the past four years.

Religion is one of the few things in this world that cannot obtain the protection of a trust. The split-up a year or so ago in the Salvation Army that resulted in the formation of the Volunteers of America shows, however, that there is plenty of room for everybody and material galore to work on. Both organizations are succeeding and are not interfering with each other in any way.

A SECRET UNSAID.

I roam the world over,
I cross the wild sea,
But life has no pleasure
Nor comfort for me.

A secret unsaid
Is a hard load to bear;
It bows down the shoulders
And whitens the hair.

The car headlong dashing,
By forest and lake,
The secret unsaid
From my heart cannot shake.

The white-winged ship,
By the western breeze sped,
Cannot bear me away
From my secret unsaid.

Ah, me! could I waft it
Away in the breeze!
Could I hide it forever
Beneath the green trees!

Could I cast it abroad
On the blue rolling wave!
Could I bury it deep
In the darks of the grave!

For fain from life's turmoil
At rest would I lie,
Could I lift up my secret
To daylight, and die.

But restless, I trow,
Is the sleep of the dead
Who go to the grave
With a secret unsaid.

A Baseball Freak.

Several weeks ago a cow belonging to Rolla Payne began to lose its appetite and grow thin. There seemed to be nothing the matter with the animal, but it continued slowly to starve. It ate very little, just sufficient to keep life within its body, but not enough to sustain it any length of time. Mr. Payne finally came down town and consulted Dr. D. W. Rose, who sent up some medicine, but did not see the animal.

Six weeks passed and the cow grew thinner and thinner, while the owner grew more and more perplexed. One night the cow was seized with a violent fit of coughing, and during this coughed up a boy's ordinary base ball, two and one-half inches in diameter, which during all this time had been lodged in the animal's throat.

As soon as relieved of the ball the bovine began to improve, and its appetite increased amazingly. It has now recovered its old-time flesh, and is none the worse for its unusual feast.—Muskegon (Mich.) Chronicle.

Beautiful loving cups in silver gilt, with fine porcelain medallions set in the side, are among latest and most attractive novelties.

Fashion's Latest Fancies.

Yachting suits of white flannel, trimmed with gold braid and buttons.

Skirts of black grenadine, showing flounces edged with velvet ribbon.

Bicycle hats having a soft crown of gray taffeta silk and a brim of straw.

Gowns of pink and white, trimmed with black velvet and pure white lace.

Tiny collarettes or capes of mousseline plaitings, ribbon and artificial flowers.

A fashionable coiffure for evening still requires the assistance of jeweled pins and combs.

Brown and violet are predicted to be the fashionable combination, par excellence, of the coming season.

Trimmed skirts increase in favor as the sleeves grow smaller. Especially is this true in evening gowns.

Black Brussels gowns, with velvet belt, are very Frenchy, but the old fashioned figured net has not yet returned.

Ruches of mousseline de soie or chiffon-cite, or many thin materials which look alike, are a necessary adjunct to the toilette.

Roman stripes, broche figures, hairlines, checks and French plaids are some of the taffetas offered for waists and gowns with a soft finish nowadays.

Full effects will be retained and worn as much as ever for fancy waists for autumn. Fancy shapes in yoke effects also will be very popular for these waists.

Both black and white satin will figure as trimming on winter gowns; lace covered yokes, jackets and vests rival full vests and frills of chiffon and mousseline.

The little straight-up-and-down matinees that hang from the yoke are effective and easily made for morning wear, being alike becoming to both slender and stout figures.

Black shoes and stockings are the rule with children, though white stockings which reach about half way up the leg, and little black-strapped slippers are often worn by wee maids.

In black satin duchess reigns, followed by brocade and moire velour; then taffeta, peau de sole, a fine, soft gros-grain, etc. Designs are medium for separate skirts or entire costumes.

Ostrich feather boas which are quite too becoming and useful to become passe, are still in style. Black and gray are the two fashionable colors, and from a yard and a quarter to two yards long.

Wide and fancy collars are a feature of the latest fall waists and jacket bodices, and are used regardless of the material, whether the bodice is a round waist or a coat.

White gros-grain blouses are not so extravagant as they seem, as they clean easily and are so remarkably smart that they are generally worn with a constant sense of responsibility, so that carelessness is rarely to blame for their becoming soiled.

A delightful cape to be worn during bright, crisp mornings in the autumn, especially for strolls about country walks, where the gay leaves are rustling under foot, is of mossy green, with a warm touch of red in the silk lining of the hood.

Fancy buttons of all kinds will be a favorite waist garniture, not the rows and rows of any metal or porcelain ones used so much, but now out of date, but quite good sized ones in fancy shapes and designs in horn, gutta percha or mother of pearl.

Accordion-plaited white silk makes charming frocks for little maids, hung on yokes of fine lace and insertions. When the baby face is shaded by a "lampshade" hat—that is, a hat with an overhanging lace decked brim—the effect is picturesque beyond comparison.

The neck bands and bows of the waists this coming season will be very much reduced in size. Many of the French bodices just imported have an extremely narrow folded band, with very small frills of lace or chiffon in the back. The trimming on them, though, continues in the back.

A new skirt is trimmed with six narrow flounces placed at equal distance from the hem to the belt. These flounces are arranged in a novel way, however; they dip low in front, rising at each side in a graceful curve, and then dipping in the back again to the bottom of the hem in the back.

Accordion-plaited underclothing now plays a primary part in the trousseau of every girl of fashion. Fine mull and cambric, solid-plaited and attached to yokes of real lace, are effective to a degree; narrow lace is sewed on the edge of the material and tiny insertions are set in before the plaiting is done.

Tea jackets in delicate shades of pink, blue and cream white, made very simply with feather stitched hems or lavishly trimmed with lace, are altogether charming for morning wear at home, and are especially dainty when worn with light colored or white dress skirts.

Taffeta silks are very smart, indeed, for evening gowns, and those of black are made into all sorts of fancifully trimmed skirts, to be worn with waists of the same tone or different coloring. This skirt, with a low cut bodice of black chiffon, or any color one may choose, makes an ideal dress for evening functions.

In royal purple a charming costume is made with the skirt trimmed with many rows of black braid of different widths, and the jacket, which is tight fitting, is also braided. The fronts of the jacket do not meet, and are finished with rows of round gilt buttons, over which are placed lacings which hold the jacket together and yet reveal a glimpse of a purple and white blouse front.

ALL IN GOOD TASTE.

China candlesticks are displayed in the most ornate styles with clusters of flowers reaching out to curved and scalloped rims. The candle support in the center is of dull gold, either in solid fluting or open lacework. A very handsome stand is supported by gold coils in successive circles, which form the underbrace and also a highly ornamental handle.

Ink wells abound in the same showy patterns, set on curved platters with gold stipple borders. The well is not detachable from the tray, and is interlined with a plain ink receptacle in clear white ware.

Card trays in china are shown in many curious and delicate shapes. One of the prettiest is a Dresden with a deep pink border relieved in spaces by early Victorian medallions. Another richly decorated tray has a center bouquet of roses in oval form and a rim of dark purple shading through a two-inch border into the faintest lavender.

An ideal meerschaum holder in clear white china rests in a gilded metal stand. The center of the tray is decorated with the painting of a dark brown pipe, laid between two matches, one of which is yet to be utilized and the other having a charred and burnt end. The same design is shown in a cigarette tray, the pipe being replaced with a cigarette.

As if everything had been carefully planned for the smoker's comfort, there are rock crystal cigar and cigarette jars, with chased or plain silver lids, in close proximity to a noval variety of ash-holders.

Toilet accessories are abundant in flowered and figured china, both in single pieces and sets, grouped on a broad tray. Cups for cream and powder are frequent in bowl shape with colonial lids and lined with glasses easily removed. Entire manicure sets are in rose-bud china. The china fad prevails also in handles of brushes and whisk brooms.

Washington, Napoleon and Marie Antoinette plates are decorated with center portraits and conventional borders in gold tracing. The old blue plaqque with mill and marine scene still holds its own in popular fancy.

Two styles of glove fasteners, the deep, double wire loop and the single hook, are shown with smooth or corrugated pearl handles. The same design in handles is attached to the broad silver blade of the paper cutter.

College flags are just now the up-to date hat pins.

A very convenient tumbler holder is made of cross bands and upright standards of black metal curved outward at the top and bottom in imitation of the old-time dandelion curl.

A new comb meant to confine the loose locks on either side of the back coil has deep teeth at the two extremes united by a plain band that fits closely over the coil.

Ornamental shell and tortoise hairpins are tipped with silver coronets, stars and clusters of flowers. Some of these are set with imitation gems in showy clusters.

The Princess Aline is a new side comb with the carved rim rising in waves and the teeth lengthening from the right and left to the center.

A pretty bracelet warranted to heighten the snowy whiteness of the wrist is of coiled tasteless black beads, finished with acorn tips. Other taking styles are in silver links with padlock fastenings and the plain gold ring.

SHE'S VERY DEAR.

She's very dear. So fair, so sweet, so true!
Lips red as wine; eyes of the deep, deep blue,
And full of love and dreams;
Her rich hair golden gleams;
She like an angel seems. She's very dear.

She's very dear. She's childlike, yet mature;
Hers is affection that will e'er endure;
Tender, full of the grace
Born of a gentle race;
An honest, trustful face. She's very dear.

She's very dear. Her smile's the little ray
Of sunlight that illuminates the day.
It is all true, but hear:
It spends, or very near,
Ten thousand every year! She's very dear!

Made and Merit Maintains the confidence of the people in Hood's Sarsaparilla. If a medicine cures you when sick; if it makes wonderful cures everywhere, then beyond all question that medicine possesses merit.

Made

That is just the truth about Hood's Sarsaparilla. We know it possesses merit because it cures, not once or twice or a hundred times, but in thousands and thousands of cases. We know it cures, absolutely, permanently, when all others fail to do any good whatever. We repeat

A Chicago woman discovered her baby's first tooth, fainted away and remained unconscious for three hours. Ruskin:—"You hear every day great numbers of foolish people speaking about liberty as if it were such an honorable thing; so far from being that it is, on the whole and in the broadest sense, dishonorable, and an attribute of the lower creatures. Throughout the world, of the two abstract things, liberty and restraint, restraint is always the more honorable."

A French philosopher says: "Unrequited love is unquestionably a disease. A man conceives a violent passion for a woman who is absolutely indifferent to him. In the natural order of things one would suppose his love would die, lacking sustenance. Not at all. On the contrary, it becomes a frenzy, and realizing the hopelessness of his ardor, he blows his brains out, swallows carbolic acid or jumps into the river. Healthy love is always reciprocal. A kind of free masonry exists between two persons who are destined to be all in all to each other. A mutual sympathy is engendered, and is nourished involuntarily. This is natural. But when the affection is all on one side something is wrong."

Chief Hazen of the government secret service says: "Counterfeiters might be termed the aristocracy of crooks. They are generally quiet, not often immoral or convivial, and are naturally very reserved. It is to their interest to be reticent. It is a paradox, but there are never thieves among them. What I mean is, that while they follow counterfeiting, which is one of the worst crimes imaginable, they would not rob or burglarize. Many of them have been known to be exceedingly charitable, though it may be said if they are successful they can easily afford to be so. They are a milder class than that of any other criminals. They never cause trouble in any community wherever they may happen to be, outside of the counterfeiting. There are not so many women in the business as formerly, and those who are co-operate with their husbands. The man generally makes the money and the woman passes it, as she does not find so much trouble in doing so. There is more coining of the queer in the West and Southwest sections of the country than in the others. It probably started there and has continued. It is transmitted from father to son, just like any other trade, and flourishes in much the same manner as illicit distilling.

ROYAL — ROYAL — ROYAL BAKING POWDER — Absolutely Pure

The Poor Thing!

He was a well-dressed young fellow, and the girls with him were two as pretty specimens of what Chicago air and food can turn out as one could wish to see, and yet he looked uneasy and listened in a half-hearted way to the sallies of his companies.

One of them, a dashing little brunette of 13, endeavored several times to arouse him from his fit of abstraction, but in vain, and at last she turned to the other girl, a stately blonde of 23 or 24, and exclaimed, pettishly:

"Some one's wits have gone chasing after another girl, for I've done and said everything to amuse him, and just look at that face."

The blonde laughed, perhaps a little provokingly, as she replied:

"Yes, you have done your best, but——" and there was eloquence in that pause.

"Well, try your hand, then," returned the brunette. "Why, he even isn't paying any attention to us now, while we are talking about him, are you?" turning again to the young man.

"I beg your pardon, yes; did you speak to me?" stammered the young man, flushing and looking from one girl to the other.

"Of course we did," returned the brunette. "We've been doing nothing else for the last half hour, but if you are going to be so uninteresting I'd just as lief go home. Anyway, its nearly dinner time, so we had better start. Don't you think so?" turning to the blonde.

"Yes, I do. The park's some distance from home, and it will take us at least fifteen minutes to ride there, you know."

"Of course it will. Which is the nearest way to the cable?" answered the brunette, looking about her in bewilderment.

The young man's face became crimson. He stammered until even the blonde's patience became exhausted. Looking him over in a freezing manner, she said in a tone which reminded him of January weather after a big snowstorm:

"What is the matter? Have you lost your way? If you have we can call a policeman."

"No—no—that is, of course not. The cable is out this way," returned the young man, walking dejectedly ahead and looking as though he was going to the scaffold. The two girls exchanged glances and the brunette giggled, but conversation languished until a car was hailed, and the young man started to help the girls upon it. Then, as though suddenly overcome by illness, he staggered and declared he could not accompany them. The girls refused to get on the car, and were so sweet and tender in their expressions of sympathy that he had difficulty in inducing them to take the next one, promising to follow as soon as he had interviewed a physician. As he helped them on the car and pressed a dime into the hand of the blonde for their car fare, his face looked brighter, and he muttered to himself as the car vanished in the distance and he prepared to follow it on foot:

"Well, that's the tightest hole I was ever in. To think that I should have been reduced to my last dime, because I forgot I had torn my pocket."—Chicago Chronicle.

The Machine Flew.

A Georgia man who had made a flying machine offered a negro $10 to make a trial trip in it.

The negro agreed, got in position, and he and the machine were hoisted by block and tackle about thirty feet from terra firma.

When the rope was loosened the machine took a sudden slanting course toward earth and plunged into an adjacent mill-pond.

It disappeared with the negro beneath the water, while the terrified inventor stood shrieking for assistance.

Presently the negro's head bobbed up serenely and he struck out for dry land. On arriving his first spluttered words were:

"In de name er God, Marse John, why didn't you tell dat fool thing whar ter 'light?"—Atlanta Constitution.

SAN LEANDRO.

(From the San Leandro Reporter.)

A. C. Estes and J. Dring returned from Trinity Co. the first of the week. They had a very enjoyable trip.

Walter Silva announces that the season for ripe tomatoes has arrived. Walter will handle a new variety this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bush Finnel, who have been visiting at the residence of Mr. S. Huff, returned to their home in Orland on Tuesday.

San Leandro Council No. 1 will give a grand ball in honor of the Grand Council on Thursday, October 7th, at the hall of the association.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Anderson passed away on Wednesday morning. She had been ailing for many weeks.

Rev. J. Burchett and family arrived from Modesto on Wednesday. Mr. Burchett has been assigned to the pastorate of the M. E. Church of this place.

Game Warden Donovan and Chas. Peterson left on Tuesday for a hunting trip near the southern shores of the bay.

The partnership heretofore existing between J. B. Mendonca and T. W. Mulford has terminated and Mr. Mendonca will devote himself to farming his own ranch.

Constables Gallet and Quinn sold the stock of liquors in the saloon heretofore owned by C. Helling on Wednesday. The sum of $103 was realized, enough to satisfy both the attachments levied on the goods.

The dinner of the Swiss Rifle Club at the Estudillo House Gardens was well attended and the visitors expressed themselves as pleased with the dinner and charmed with the delightful spot chosen for the repast.

Nick Simney and Geo. Dornback left for the Shasta gold mines on Tuesday.

Hugh Gillespie arrived home from Seattle on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Morehouse have gone on a visit to Skaggs Springs.

There was a special meeting of the Trustees on Thursday evening. The meeting was called for the purpose of considering the request of Mr. E. B. Stone that he be allowed to string an insulated along Joaquin avenue from Hayward avenue to the eastern limits of the city. Mr. Stone said he would have the wires securely adjusted and replace all weak poles and conform to all reasonable requests of the citizens and Board. The request was granted.

The Cannery committee has been hard at work for the past week examining the plans submitted to it. One plan has been proposed and it has met with the unanimous approval of the committee. A public meeting of the fruitgrowers will be held at the City Hall on Tuesday evening. It is expected that every grower in this section will be present and that the plan will be thoroughly examined into and discussed.

Game Warden Donovan has requested the Reporter to draw the attention of the local sportsmen to the fact that the season for shooting rail in this county will not commence before October 15th and that all persons detected in the act of shooting them before the opening will be promptly arrested.

The past week has been a busy one for the ladies who have been arranging for the fair which opened in St. Joseph's Hall on Thursday evening. The proceeds of the fair are to be devoted to lifting the debt on the new church at the neighboring town of San Lorenzo. Some years ago when it was necessary to pay the debt on the Catholic Church in this city the people of San Lorenzo did their share. The articles on which chances are sold are useful and in many cases valuable, and an evening can be pleasantly passed. The different booths are tastefully decorated.

HAYWARDS.

(From the Haywards Review.)

The following committees have been appointed by the Hayward Fire Co. No. 1 for the masquerade ball to be given November 24th:

Arrangements—John Obermuller, Geo. Grindell, H. Fessler, W. F. Darling, A. Ramage.

Reception—Ed McKinney, Al Dale, F. Strobel, F. V. Merle, Ed Drews.

Prize—O. E. Walpert, Wm. Zambresky, Wm. Pann.

Floor—J. Goodell, F. Rayer, O. E. Walpert, Wm. Zambresky, George Obermuller, Geo. Schilling.

Floor Manager—Walter Myers.

Invitation—W. Pann, J. B. Rupprecht, Ed Drews, W. F. Darling, Al Dale.

It speaks well for the activity of the town that there are very few idle men around. The other day Russell & Smalley wanted some extra men for work at the quarry and Mr. Russell spent nearly a whole day looking for them and then was only able to find one.

Tom O'Neill thinks he is lucky and has good cause for so thinking. Yesterday he was burning some old papers at the Myrobolan Nursery and he had just emptied a sack full on the fire and stepped aside when there was the report of a cartridge going off and he felt something strike him on the cheek. A 22 cartridge had been in the refuse that was burned and the heat caused it to explode. After the bullet struck him Tom picked it up and intends keeping it as a curiosity.

Frank Keen, son-in-law of Mrs. M. J. White, met with an accident at Berkeley Wednesday that will keep him from work for some time. He was doing carpenter work at one of the University buildings and in some way lost his footing and fell. One wrist was broken, the other was sprained, and his back injured. He was brought to his home here and placed under the care of Dr. Dean, and is making as good progress as can be expected.

Mr. Henry Payot of the book firm of Payot, Upham & Co., San Francisco, will give a series of stereopticon views at Native Sons' hall Saturday evening, October 9th, for the benefit of the Public Library. The views will come under the head of "Scenes on the Mediterranean," and will embrace a large number of interesting sights and scenes in the countries through which Mr. Payot has traveled.

The explosion of a large hanging lamp at the cannery Tuesday night caused a lively time for a while, but the flames were smothered before any damage was done.

George Hauschildt, who underwent an operation at St. Luke's Hospital for his ear, returned home this week. The operation was entirely successful.

James Farrell, who had his ankle badly strained and bruised by a horse falling on him, went to Petaluma Saturday on a visit to his uncle.

The first rain of the season fell yesterday, and according to Druggist McDonnell's rain gauge amounted to .10 of an inch.

Miss Florence Porter of Oakland has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. D. Smalley, this week.

This is the footpad season of the year in Oakland and San Francisco, and, not to be behind the procession, Haywards has a case of attempted hold-up to report. Last Tuesday evening, about 8:30 o'clock, C. A. Ashford was returning home and was going up B street. When just beyond the Free Library some one stepped from behind one of the large trees at the edge of the sidewalk and confronted him. Mr. Ashford attempted to go around the man, but his way was blocked. He then pushed the fellow to one side and continued his journey. When further up the street Mr. Ashford again met the same fellow, who had followed behind him, and this time he had a brick in his hand. Mr. Ashford thought the time for action had come, and he aimed a blow at the footpad with his cane. He missed his man, but he swung his cane with such force that it slipped out of his hand and went in the street, and when he recovered it the footpad had disappeared. Mr. Ashford continued his journey home without further incident.

SAN LORENZO.

(From the Haywards Journal.)

Mr. Frank Nugent and bride left for Antioch on Sunday.

Mrs. Morrill of Mexico is visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. S. King.

Miss Martha Smith of San Francisco is a guest at the Hotel Lorenzo.

Jas. L. Ford of Hanford, a former resident, visited friends in town on Wednesday.

The Teal Club met again on Sunday and Louis W. Shiman took the prize as usual.

The remains of Mrs. Lawrence of Haywards were laid to rest in the cemetery on Thursday.

Nils King of Sebastapol were united in Nit King of Sebastapol were united in marriage last week.

Thos. McCauley arrived home on Saturday after a successful season at the salmon cannery at Fort Wrangel.

Antone Henrickson, for some years in the employ of Ed Webb, passed away on Wednesday. The funeral took place from the Odd Fellows' Hall at Haywards on Saturday.

Sam Bolivar Johnson, the enterprising Celestial, has made a pot of money in dried fruit this year, and he will shortly leave for China where he will enjoy himself according to Chinese ideas of enjoyment.

The Willows Hotel had a narrow escape from being destroyed on Tuesday. A fire broke out in the kitchen, but it fortunately was discovered by the men in Smyth's Works. The whistle was blown and the gallant firemen soon had the fire under control.

LIVERMORE.

(From the Livermore Herald.)

Miss Kubias of San Francisco is visiting at the residence of Mrs. Wendell Jordan.

Mrs. John Gayetti paid Livermore a combined business and pleasure visit the first of the week.

Miss Maggie Cull returned home Sunday from an extended visit with friends in San Francisco.

Rudolph Schmidt, a former Livermore boy, paid a visit to his parents of this place Sunday and Monday.

Miss Mabel Morrill returned home Monday after a brief visit with friends in San Francisco.

Mrs. Pitcher and daughters, Misses Pearl and Hazel, have returned from their summer outing at Lake Tahoe. They report having had a most enjoyable time.

Mrs. Ella Floyd and daughter Etta, of Colorado, former residents of this place, were guests last week of Dr. and Mrs. S. L. Savage.

Mr. S. Seller has resigned his position as manager of the firm of Anspacher Bros. H. H. Sattler will hereafter conduct the business.

Mr. and Mrs. J. West Martin are visiting at their ranch, west of town.

Miss Eliza Cull spent last week in San Francisco, as the guest of friends.

Pleasanton is to have a pavilion after all. The scheme as at first proposed by the members of the Bohemian Club has fallen through, but Joseph Nevis, an enterprising citizen, took the matter in hand and now expects to have the work begun next week. The hall will be 46x100 feet and the stage 20x20. The outside of the building will be rustic and the inside will be finished in the rough with a view of ultimately plastering it.

Charley Beck has become a partner in the fruit and grocery business formerly conducted by W. W. Brown. He entered into his new relations yesterday, and hereafter the firm will be known as Brown & Beck.

Livermore creamery butter is again in the front rank. At the State Fair at Sacramento, in the contest for storage butter for June, the Livermore product won first honors over nine competitors. Prof. H. F. Lyon made up the exhibit.

Two new two-story lodging houses will shortly be erected at the Corral Hollow coal mines, for the use of employees and miners. One of them is now in course of construction. A number of small cottages will also be built for miners having families.

Mrs. Mary Webb and daughter Edith, arrived from Pacific Grove on the 28th inst. and will visit with her brother, the Rev. John Reid, for a few days, after which she will go north to Westminster, B. C., for the winter.

A reception will be tendered Rev. M. H. Alexander and family Friday evening, October 8th, in the M. E. Church. All are cordially invited.

On Thursday of last week, while A. Herbert was loading his wagon with stovewood from a sled with which he was gulching out wood on the ranch of Chas. Colquchoun, the wagon brake slipped or became loosened in some way and the wagon started suddenly down grade toward a ravine. There was a mighty rapid gain in motion for about fifty yards and with a lunge to one side the loaded vehicle turned a complete somersault into a clump of scrubby oaks, with wheels on top. The rack, rack pole, seat, springs, and one pair of double trees were found to be akin to kindling wood. But for a few stout saplings which the wagon encountered on its rapid transit into the gulch, the running gear would have been demolished beyond repair.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the residence of Joseph Stankey in honor of the fifteenth birthday of his sister, Miss Etta Frick. Singing, dancing, and games were features of the occasion, and at midnight refreshments of cake and coffee were served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Frick, Misses Josey and Katie Stankey, Susie and Etta Frick, Minnie and Susie Hoover, Lizzie Bennett and Mary Jones of Pleasanton, Messrs. Joseph Stankey, Wm. Maderia, Henry Colderweih, Harry Brunt, Edward O'Brien, Moke Schaffer, Chris Myers, Paul and Tom Greely, Percy Calvin, Tony Maderia, Tony Rodrick, Wm. Hoover, George Hop, Mr. Calvin, Arthur St. Clair, Jesse Russell and Nick Livermore.

The fair to be held by the ladies of the Catholic Church, in the Farmers' Union Hall on October 28th, 29th, and 30th, promises to be a very enjoyable and successful affair. Each department is in the hands of a separate committee of ladies, which insures the attendance to all details. The tables will be in charge of Misses Kate McKeaney and Mary Callaghan. Miss Agnes Nevin will preside over the ice cream stand, and Mrs. Lawler will superintend the supper. Admission will be free.

NEW MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

A Positive Cure for Dyspepsia.

This may read as though we were putting it a little strong because it is generally thought by the majority of people that Dyspepsia in its chronic form is incurable, or practically so. But we have long since shown that Dyspepsia is curable, nor is it such a difficult matter as at first appears.

The trouble with Dyspeptics is that they are continually dieting, starving themselves, or going to opposite extremes or else deluging the already over burdened stomach with "bitters," "after dinner pills," etc., which invariably increase the difficulty even if in some cases they do give a slight temporary relief. Such treatment of the stomach simply makes matters worse. What the stomach wants is a rest. Now how can the stomach become rested, recuperated and at the same time the body nourished and sustained.

This is the great secret and this is also the secret of the uniform success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. This is a comparatively new remedy, but its success and popularity leaves no doubt to its merits.

The Tablets will digest the food anyway, regardless of condition of stomach.

The sufferer from Dyspepsia according to directions is to eat an abundance of good, wholesome food and use the tablets before and after each meal and the result will be that the food will be digested no matter how bad your dyspepsia may be, because as before stated, the tablets will digest the food even if the stomach is wholly inactive. To illustrate our meaning plainly, if you take 1,800 grains of meat, eggs or ordinary food and place it in a temperature of 98 degrees, and put it with one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets it will digest the meat or eggs almost as perfectly as if the meat was enclosed within the stomach.

The stomach may be ever so weak yet these tablets will perform the work of digestion and the body and brain will be properly nourished and at the same time a radical, lasting cure of dyspepsia will be made because the much abused stomach will be given, to some extent, a much needed rest. Your druggist will tell you that of the many remedies advertised to cure dyspepsia none of them has given so complete and general satisfaction as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not least in importance in these hard times is the fact that they are also the cheapest and give the most good for the least money.

A little book on cause and cure of stomach troubles sent free by addressing Stuart Company, Marshall, Michigan.

GONE TO HER REST.

Mrs. Catherine Kirkham Dies After a Lingering Illness.

LONG LIFE OF PHILANTHROPY.

Has Lived at Their Elegant Home for Forty Years.

CUSTODIAN OF THE ESTATE.

The Kirkham Property Will Now Be Distributed to the Heirs.

Mrs. Catherine E. Kirkham, widow of the late General R. W. Kirkham, died at the Occidental Hotel, San Francisco, late Saturday night. Mrs. Kirkham was the mother of the Hon. Mrs. Yarde-Buller, Mrs. P. L. Wheeler, and Mrs. James D. Safford.

The deceased was born in Georgetown, D. C., seventy years ago. Her maiden name was Catherine Mix. In 1846 she was married to General Kirkham in New Orleans where she lived as a girl.

In 1855 General Kirkham brought his young wife to Fort Tejon in Lower California, where he was ordered. For two years they lived in tents until the forts were completed. Then the General was attached to a San Francisco department. They came to Oakland and built the handsome family residence on Eighth and Oak streets.

Their home was the scene of many hospitalities and the Kirkham mansion, with its beautiful grounds, was one of the show places of the Athens of the Pacific.

In May, 1893, General Kirkham died, leaving an estate valued at $750,000. According to the terms of his will, the widow was given a life interest in the entire estate and at her death, it was to be divided between the three daughters, Mrs. P. L. Wheeler, Mrs. Yarde-Buller, and Mrs. J. D. Safford of Springfield, Mass. The oldest daughter, Julia, the wife of Major Davis, died nearly twenty years ago, leaving no issue.

After the General's death, Mrs. Kirkham, whose health was already enfeebled, retired from any active participation in society. She was very prominent in philanthropic and church affairs. To Mrs. Kirkham belongs the honor of foupding St. John's Episcopal Church. She entertained the Rev. Father Akerly, whose recent death is still mourned, and became interested in establishing an Episcopal Church in this city. The land on Eighth and Grove streets was purchased, and Mrs. Kirkham laid the corner stone of the church.

She was interested in the founding of Fabiola Hospital and gave liberal donations. After the hospital was built, she gave $5000 for the establishment of the Kirkham bed. She was at one time president of Fabiola Hospital Association and at the time of her death held an honorary office.

Mrs. Kirkham was one of the organizers, and for several terms president of the Ladies' Relief Society with its Old Ladies' and Children's home at Temescal. The Associated Charities was another recipient of Mrs. Kirkham's generosity.

During these last years of her life, Mrs. Kirkham suffered from many of the infirmities of old age. She was paralyzed ten years ago, and as age crept on apace she grew blind and deaf and weak. Mrs. Wheeler lived at the family residence and took care of her mother. Mrs. Wheeler was given the legal guardianship of her mother and administered to her interests and comforts.

It was owing to the provisions of General Kirkham's will that trouble arose between Mrs. Wheeler and her sister, the Hon. Mrs. Yarde-Buller. The latter had married an Englishman of noble family, but the marriage commenced under such happy auspices terminated unpleasantly. Mrs. Yarde-Buller's first husband was Lieutenant Blair, who died leaving two sons to the care of their mother. On her re-marriage, Mrs. Yarde-Buller took her sons to England with her. The young men raised in another country became thoroughly Anglicized, and the elder, Kirkham Blair, is now a member of the British Army.

When her marital troubles began, Mrs. Yarde-Buller found herself pressed for ready money. She hurried to America and had a stipulation with her sister by which she would receive $500 a month. Then she went back to England to fight the suit brought by her husband for divorce. She filed a cross-complaint alleging cruelty and won her suit for separation. As her victory brought with it no increased finances and no absolute divorce, Mrs. Yarde-Buller again came to Oakland, determined to win absolute freedom in the American courts and to gain another stipulation from Mrs. Wheeler, giving her increased allowance. Mrs. Yarde-Buller's incessant demands for money caused an estrangement between the sisters. This feeling was augmented by the gossip that was circulated concerning the strained relations between the two. Mrs. Yarde-Buller was granted the use of the family mansion while the Wheelers went into the country. Mrs. Kirkham was lodged temporarily at the Occidental Hotel. Although the Wheelers returned in a short time, Mrs. Kirkham had grown too weak to be removed to her home.

The serious illness and the approaching death of their mother united the two sisters, who in their common sorrow forgot former differences. When Mrs. Kirkham died, Mrs. Wheeler was with her but Mrs. Yarde-Buller was too ill to be present. Mrs. Yarde-Buller is still in this city but is very ill. Mrs. Kirkham's death will, however, settle all differences over the estate which will now be distributed according to the terms of the will.

The funeral of Mrs. Kirkham will be held at 2 P. M. to-morrow from St. John's Church. The services will be conducted by the Rev. Floyd J. Mynard, rector of St. John's Church, and by the Rev. R. C. Foute of Grace Church, San Francisco. The interment will take place in the family plat at Mountain View Cemetery. The remains are now resting at the home of Dr. Wheeler, Mrs. Kirkham's son-in-law, 1170 Madison street.

The pall-bearers at the funeral are selected from old friends and are J. West Martin, Professor Soule, Geo. T. Wright, J. E. McElrath, Morris Akerly, Don Campbell, C. D. Havens.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

W. Frank Pierce, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Dexter Pierce, left for the East last night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Dudley and Miss Dudley of Stockton have returned from a visit in this city.

Mrs. H. S. Smith is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Suman at Placerville.

Mrs. H. E. Southworth of Stockton attended the Buck-Akerly wedding Thursday.

Mrs. Miles Martin of Stockton is visiting Dr. and Mrs. Buckley in this city.

Captain James Hackett is the guest of C. W. Yolland in Stockton.

Mrs. W. G. Davis of Alameda is visiting her father, R. S. Johnson, in Stockton.

J. M. Kile of Stockton has returned from a visit in this city.

Mrs. A. Sedgwick of Alameda, and son, E. Sedgwick, of Mexico, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Farrington in Stockton.

The Christian Endeavor Society of Brooklyn Presbyterian Church gave an indoor lawn party Thursday evening. A "Yankee Musicale" will be given October 27th.

Valentine Law, son of Rev. and Mrs. V. Marshall Law, was tendered a surprise party by the choir before his departure.

The second reception of the "I. F. F." was held Friday evening a week ago at the home of Miss Cora Scheithe. A farce, songs, and music made the evening a very enjoyable one.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Gray of 1060 Oak street gave a party in honor of the the eleventh birthday of their son, Floyd Gray. The guests were Misses Eva Bonnemort, Elizabeth Smille, Clara Jones, Amy Robinson, Phoebe Jones, Bessie McArthur, Dorothy Wishart, Messrs. George Davis, Frank Harris, Lee Perreau, Harry Patton, Elmo Warner, Roy Warner, Ray Coyle.

A party of East Oaklanders comprising Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Hodges, the Misses Nellie Wilson, Gertie Pierce, Elsie Walsh, Messrs. Bert Pierce, Alfred Larkin, and George Reynolds enjoyed a sail on Lake Merritt Monday evening.

Mrs. Thomas Budd gave a party in honor of her son, Thomas, on the fifth anniversary of his birth, Wednesday afternoon. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Budd, Rev. and Mrs. F. J. Akers, Nellie Budd, Loretta Knapp, Mamie Kennedy, Annie Kennedy, Zeta Pascoe, Rachel Lamates, Mamie Rogers, Libbie Kennedy, Evaline Rogers, Lotta Aikens, Kate Kennedy, Tom Budd, John Budd, Harold Knapp, Phelps Pascoe, Joe Rogers, Ed Budd, Will Knapp, Percy Howitt, and George Waters.

Mrs. Martha Campbell, president of Phil Sheridan Circle, No. 5, Ladies of the G. A. R., was tendered a surprise party Thursday afternoon. Among those present were Past Department President Mrs. Anderson of San Jose, Department Senior Vice-President Mrs. Sarah E. B. Todd of Alameda and the following officers of the local circle: Mrs. Marion Seagraves, Miss Rose Carson, Mrs. Nellie Newhard, Miss Mary Rohr, Mrs. Luella Whitaker, Mrs. M. E. Casey, Mrs. Mary Smith, Mrs. E. L. Wilson, and the following members: Mrs. Rhoda Green, Mrs. Mary Pulver, Mrs. Nancy Roth, Mrs. Rudolph, Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. S. A. Jordan, and mother, Mrs. Maggie Smith, Mrs. Mobry and daughters, Mrs. Langworthy, Miss Margaret Newhard, Miss Maud Newhard, Miss Langworthy, Mrs. Williams, and Mrs. Welch.

An original form of entertainment was given by Miss Lee at her home on Market street Wednesday afternoon. It was a literary afternoon and in the contest of guessing titles to popular books, Mrs. Edward Leonard won the first prize, Miss Bessie Prescott the second. Among those present were Mrs. Edwin Leonard, Mrs. Percy Howard, Miss Bessie Prescott, Miss Cora Evans, Miss Eloise David, Miss Annie Leach, Miss Gertrude Foster, Miss Bertha Liney, Miss Mary Stuart, Miss Josie Howard, Miss Grace Butterick, Miss Jennie Leonard, Miss Mamie Peterson, Miss Mabel Craft, Miss Hattie Catter and Miss Louise Sheldon.

WILL DREDGE THE CLONDIKE FOR GOLD.

Captain Hackett to Send One of His Machines to the Yukon.

Captain John Hackett, the well known dredger proprietor, thinks he will dredge the Yukon river next season for gold. Captain Hackett heard that $15,000 had been taken out of the bed of the river by means of a dredger, so he called a meeting of his directors and the plan is no wunder consideration.

"I have not the Clondyke fever," he said, "but I have the Yukon dredging fever. I do not want to go up there and do any digging in the ground. I'd rather work in California mud than in the Clondyke gravel. I am satisfied that there has been more gold washed out of that country than there is in it, and I believe that a man could put a dredger on the Yukon river anywhere and take out a fortune in a summer. I heard of some fellows who had some kind of a dredger that they rigged up themselves and they took out several thousand dollars in a week. If they could do that I don't see why a good dredger could not do better. I have put the matter before our people, and I think that we will try it for a little while next year. We can take an engine and a scow up there in the spring and can be ready for work by the time the river is open. Those rivers have been washing down gravel and filling up for years. There must have been a lot of gold carried down there by this time and a dredger is the only thing that will take it out."

PLANS INVITED FOR AN IDEAL COLLEGE.

The Phoebe Hearst Contest Now Open to the Whole World.

The prospectus for the architectural competition for plans for a model university has been issued and as it is open to the world, there will undoubtedly be some splendid ideas submitted. The circular says in part:

"All the buildings that have been constructed up to the present time are to be ignored, and the grounds are to be treated as a blank space to be filled with a single beautiful and harmonious picture, as a painter fills in his canvas.

"In the great works of antiquity the designer came first, and it was the business of the financier to find the money to carry out his plans. In the new building scheme of the University of California it is the intention to restore the artist and the art idea to their old pre-eminence. The architect will simply design, others must provide the cost. About $5,000,000 have already been pledged for a beginning and such a general desire to contribute has been manifested that it is thought that all the funds required will be forthcoming as fast as the work can be carried on."

The prospectus is signed by Regent J. B. Reinstein, Governor Budd and Professor William Carey Jones as trustees for the Phoebe Hearst architectural plan of the University of California.

By Telephone.

It was a very warm day near the close of August, and Virginia Allen stepped into a corner drug store to refresh herself with a soda.

A woman is never too warm or too fatigued to notice another woman's gown, and as Virginia waited at a little soda counter her observant eyes took in every detail of the charming summer costume worn by a young woman who was standing at the telephone.

She was a very pretty woman, and her dainty gown of grass linen, with its touch of green ribbons here and there, became her exceedingly, as did her hat, a mass of sweet peas and green gauze, set well forward on her blonde head.

Just now she was a bit out of temper. "Express 2,804," she called impatiently. And as she waited for the desired number she turned and looked at Virginia, who, quite overcome by the heat—or was it for some other reason—had seated herself at no great distance off and was wielding a palm leaf fan energetically.

The pretty woman turned abruptly to the 'phone in response to a call. "Is this Express 2,804?" she said.

"It is Byron's number," Virginia muttered to herself. "I thought so."

The woman at the 'phone spoke again: "This is Mr. Curtis, is it not?" Virginia ceased fanning and scarcely disguised the fact that the conversation interested her.

"Yes, I am Miss Cleavebrook," continued the woman in the linen gown. Then, "Yes, please."

A short pause ensued. The drug store cuckoo clock struck two. Virginia excitedly imagined what Byron Curtis must be saying at the other end of the 'phone in his office, high up in one of the downtown buildings.

Miss Cleavebrook interrupted her thoughts. "Yes," she said, and Virginia fancied perhaps that her voice took on a more tender tone. "Same place," she continued, with a little laugh. "Did you? I'm so glad. Thanks so much for the flowers. You really mustn't send them so often. It's too extravagant of you."

Virginia gave a little start. "Theater again this week?" questioned Miss Cleavebrook doubtingly. "I really think twice a week is too often."

But the man with whom she was talking seemed to overcome her scruples, and after agreeing to go with him on Friday evening of that week, she said:

"Why don't you ask me why I called you up?" Then, seeming to forget that she was in a public place, she laughed merrily at the response that came back over the 'phone. Finally she said:

"No, it wasn't that. I want very much to see that book of 'After Dinner Speeches' you spoke of. Can you bring it to me this evening? No? Well, tomorrow, then. What are you going to do tonight?"

The fair questioner seemed but little pleased at the answer she received. She tapped her foot impatiently, and it was a full minute before she spoke.

Virginia fancied she heard Byron say, "I am going to call on Miss Allen tonight." For had he not asked if he might come over to see her Tuesday?

Miss Cleavebrook recovered her temper, if, indeed, she had lost it, and said: "I thought I told you to drop that."

Virginia arose hurriedly and walked to the front of the store. "It is insupportable," she muttered to herself. "She speaks as if she owned him, when—"

Her thoughts overcame her at the memory of all that had happened between her and Byron Curtis rushed to her mind.

The sharp ring of the little bell recalled her to herself, and she looked up to see Miss Cleavebrook leave the store and go slowly down the street with a happy smile dimpling her pretty face.

Virginia took an impulsive step toward the telephone, heedless of the clerk who stood behind the counter and who began to gaze at her rather curiously.

"He need not come to see me," she thought fiercely. "He would rather be with her." Her voice nearly choked her as she answered, "Express 2,804," to the inevitable, "Number, please."

The moments which followed were agony to her. Her thoughts ran wild. "It was only last week that he told me that he cared for me, and I—I was to have answered him tonight. Why—why did I care so much?"

"Hello!" sounded a man's voice over the 'phone, and then, before she could speak, "Is this you again, Louisa?"

Virginia's face paled; then she flushed painfully. It never had occurred to her that another man could have answered to Express 2,804.

She made an effort to control her voice. "I am Miss Allen. I wish to speak to Mr. Curtis."

"Mr. Curtis left the office, madam, at 2 o'clock. I am his partner, Mr. Colway. Can I do anything for you?"

"Thank you, no," replied Virginia.

Mr. Colway wondered as he hung up the receiver at the glad change in the girl's voice.

"Miss Allen," he soliloquized. "By Jove! I didn't know it had gone so far. Her voice sounded as if she might be pretty. If I am to believe Curtis on the subject of the young lady's charms, he is in great good luck, but I'll bet she can't touch Lou."

The glad change in Virginia's voice was noticed also by another man—a man who stood by the cigar counter watching the girl with his soul in his eyes.

Virginia turned from the 'phone with a happy feeling of thankfulness that was almost pain. The man who had been watching her stepped quickly toward her.

"Byron!" she said with a little glad cry, holding out both her hands to him.

"Virginia," he answered, "it is Tuesday."

"Yes," she said softly, "it is Tuesday."

"And"—questioned he.

"Yes, again," she murmured even lower.

A drug store is not a very romantic place, but I think that those two told each other everything in the look they gave each other, quite unmindful of the little clerk, who flippantly mixed an egg phosphate for the next customer.—Exchange.

FOR OAKLAND'S ORPHANS.

The Asylums of This City Are Left Considerable Property.

Mayor W. R. Thomas has received the following letter from Attorney Ross of Redwood City:

"Redwood City, October 1, 1897.

"Dear Sir:—Mr. James Quentin died in this county several months ago, leaving an estate which has been appraised at $103,825. A document purporting to be his last will, and codicil thereto, has been admitted to probate by the Superior Court of San Mateo county. By paragraphs first and second of the will he bequeaths the sum of $16,000 and by paragraph third of the same he bequeaths one-third of all his real and personal property. The fourth paragraph of the will reads as follows:

"'Fourth—To the various Orphan Homes of this State, I give all the remainder of my personal and real property.'

"Have you in your city or county asylums or homes for orphans, Protestant, Catholic, Jewish, fraternal, or the like, which might be included within the provisions of said paragraph? If so, will you kindly give me the names of such, with the name of the president, secretary, superintendent, or manager of the same, with location and postoffice address? If there is none in your city or county, to your knowledge, will you please so state?

"Yours very truly,

"GEORGE C. ROSS."

Mayor Thomas requests that interested persons send him the necessary information as soon as possible.

SUCCESSFUL FESTIVAL OF THE LEVITES.

Forty-Four Mixed Voices Sing at the Church of the Advent.

The unique service called "The Festival of the Levites," which occurred again last evening for the eighth time, was attended by a well-filled church and every evidence of satisfaction by the members of the Church of the Advent in East Oakland. The organist, the rector's wife, Mrs. V. Marshal Law, played three organ numbers, and Miss Stalder, Mr. Wm. Augus and Mr. Alfred Read each sang a solo.

This part of the programme simply took the time and place of the sermon, the other part of the service being the choral service of the Episcopal Church sung by a choir of forty-four mixed voices, the singers all being in vestment and presenting a very fine appearance as they came and went singing as they marched.

The choir did some exceedingly fine work musically. Without baton or leadership of any kind except the organ they sang as one voice, making the most surprising ritards and accelerando, mingled with loud and soft passages, showing what united effort by an amateur choir can accomplish.

These "Levite Festivals" occur each month and have increased in general popularity from the first.

SHOT HIS DAUGHTER.

Bessie Kleve Said to Have Fallen Into Bad Company.

WAS AN OAKLAND CHORISTER.

A Few Months Ago She Gave Sheriff White a Chase.

AROUSED PARENTAL WRATH.

Months of Quarrel Nearly Result in a Murder.

Miss Bessie Kleve, who was the leading singer at the congregation Beth Jacob last February, was shot twice by her father last night at their home in San Francisco.

The cause of the shooting, according to the father, was the girl's disobedience of parental advice regarding the company she should keep. As a result of alleged shortcoming the father had his child brought to the City Hall, where she was taken before Captain Bohen, who advised her to change her way of living.

At this time she was often seen with one Harry Summerfield, to whom she was probably engaged. Summerfield recently left the city for Texas. The girl's father did not object to her marrying Sommerfield, but he did object to her keeping company with a florist whose stand is in the Emporium.

It was the girl's association with the florist that led to the trouble last night. She declined to be lectured by her father, asserting that she was 19 years of age and competent to think for herself.

This led to further words, whereupon she seized some sample bottles, which her father had in his room, and threw them at his head. This angered him, and on the impulse he opened a drawer took out a pistol and fired two shots at her. Both took effect in her face. One entered at the corner of the mouth on the left side, and ranged upward and backward, lodging under the left ear. It was extracted by Dr. Thompson. The bullet struck the jawbone and broke it, becoming as flat as a coin on the side of the contact.

Policemen McEntee and Cook went to the house and arrested Kleve. The prisoner was greatly excited and said that Bessie was the oldest of five children, and that bad company had resulted in her downfall.

If Miss Kleve's recent life has been what it is asserted by her father to have been, she has certainly changed materially within the last few months. As late as last February the young lady was the leader of the Beth Jacob choir of Oakland, and she was considered by Rabbi Lincker of that congregation one of the lights of the flock. Previous to her residence in Oakland the Kleves resided in San Jose, where Bessie attended the High school and was universally esteemed.

The trouble between Bessie and her father dates back to their residence in San Jose.

Last October Mrs. Kleve died at that place, and Bessie, though yet under 18, was the logical head of the household, while her father was away on his business trips. Returning from one of these commercial journeys, Kleve claimed that his daughter had sold the furniture of the house and refused to make proper returns of the proceeds.

A family quarrel ensued, but the daughter stood firm, and Father Kleve nursed his wrath. Soon after this the family, consisting of Bessie and three younger brothers, moved to Oakland. The girl tended to the household during her father's absence, and with precocious thrift turned her musical talents to avail, and was soon prominent in certain Jewish circles.

The troubles in the Kleve household were first publicly aired last February. A month previous to this Bessie had become of age and, her father being away on one of his business trips at the time, she applied for and secured the guardianship of the youngest boy, Harold Maurice, aged 4 years, stating to the court that the father had abandoned him.

When Kleve returned he applied to the court for a citation, which was duly made, but Sheriff White had a pretty chase before he located the child with its grandmother, at 2427 Dwight way, Berkeley. The father obtained possession of the child, and the breach which his daughter's action caused was never healed. The sad climax of the family troubles occurred last night. Those who know the unfortunate victim of parental wrath are loath to believe that the fault is all on the part of the little woman upon whom motherly cares were thrust too soon.

Five veterans from this city went to work in the mint today. They are J. A. Standeford, Bert Adams, Hiram S. Tuttle, C. A. Miller of Golden Gate and Jerome Desasey of East Oakland. The reason for increasing the force is the resumption of coining silver dollars.

At Central Park the Heesemans of this city won from the Santa Cruz team by a score of 5 to 2. It was a great game, and was won by the clever batting of the Heesemans.

Saturday's football game between U. C. and Reliance resulted in a score of 10 to 0 in favor of Reliance. The points were all made in the second half, and Captain Frick of Reliance had the distinction of making the first touch-down of the season.

There were a number of representatives of the Reliance and Acme Clubs in the races of the Olympic carnival at the Velodrome yesterday, but unfortunately none of them succeeded in getting a place in the finals.

The winners were as follows: One mile handicap, amateur, Wing; two-thirds of a mile handicap, professional, Downing; one mile pursuit for triplets, G. E. Kroetz's team; one-third mile scratch, amateur, Russ; one mile scratch, professional, Downing.

Word has been received from Yale that Ransome, the former U. C. star, will not be allowed to play on the Yale football eleven this year, owing to the fact that he has already played four years on the California team.

In an American Wild.

It was late in the afternoon as I passed one of those very peculiar graveyards, with its collection of what might be taken for chicken coops, which are common in the mountain regions of Eastern Kentucky and West Virginia, and there sat upon the fence surrounding the consecrated ground about as sorry a specimen of the utterly do-less mountaineer as I had ever seen. He was generally ill-kept and shiftless and in addition to his woefulness of attire there was more of it in his sallow and cheerless face.

"Good day," I said, stopping my horse; "can you tell me how far it is to Day's store?"

"I reckon I kin, stranger."

"Well, how far is it?"

"Three mile ef you go 'long the ridge an' turn to your left at them clifts you kin see yonder at the p'int uv the hill. Ef you keep on the way you're goin' hit's better trav'lin, but hit's a mile furder."

I thanked him, and observing that there was a new-made grave in the enclosure, I spoke of it.

"There has been a funeral here lately," I said.

"Yistiddy, an' it wuz my wife, stranger," he replied in a way which impressed me with the feeling that he took a pride in it and that it was quite an event in his monotonous life.

"Ah," I responded, trying to let him down easy, "I'm very sorry. I suppose it is a great loss to lose a wife."

"Never been married, have yer?" he inquired, with a kind of pitying curiosity.

"Never."

"Then you're not acquainted with what hit is to lose one, an', stranger, I've lost four," and this time the tone of pride was very perceptible.

"Realy," I said in astonishment, "have you buried four wives?"

"Well, no, I cain't ezzackly say I buried 'em," he hesitated.

"Divorced?"

"Oh, no, not that. They are all dead enough."

"Then you have buried them?"

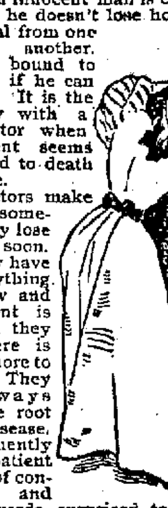

"No, only about half buried 'em."

"Excuse me," I said, mentally calculateing on the solution of the problem, "I don't want to be too personal in this business, but I'd like to have you explain yourself."

"Hit's plain enough, mister," he said, with a sickly, saffron smile. "You see, bein' a pore man myself, my friends an' the communerty giner'ly comes to my help every time I lose one an' takes up a collection ter pay most uv the funer'l expenses with, an' hit makes it a good deal easier on me, besides, allus incurridges me to try ag'in. I don't see how I'd ever stood hit, stranger, ef I'd had to bear all the load on my own shoulders, bein' such a pore weak vessel ez I am," and he sniffed a bit and drew his ragged old butternut coat sleeve across his nose and eyes.

CONDEMNED.

When an innocent man is condemned for any crime he doesn't lose hope. His lawyers appeal from one court to another. They are bound to save him, if he can be saved. It is the same way with a good doctor when his patient seems condemned to death by disease.

But doctors make mistakes sometimes; they lose heart too soon. After they have tried everything they know and the patient is no better, they think there is nothing more to be done. They don't always get at the root of the disease. They frequently give a patient up to die of consumption, and are afterwards surprised to see him get strong and well again.

Mrs. W. B. Duncan, of Arlington, Phelps Co., Mo., writes: "My husband took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery when he was (as he thought) almost into consumption, and we were very thankful that such a medicine could be found. I wish all persons troubled with cough would take it. Long may the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription' be made. I shall always recommend and praise these medicines."

All lung and bronchial diseases are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, because it supplies the system with healthy blood. It puts the vital forces into action and fills the circulation with the life-giving red corpuscles which builds up solid, muscular flesh and healthy nerve-force.

As a medical author, Dr. Pierce holds an eminent place in his profession. His great thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" is one of the standard medical works of the English language. Nearly 700,000 copies were sold at $1.50 each. A paper-bound copy will be sent absolutely free for the cost of mailing only, 21 one-cent stamps; or, cloth-bound for 31 stamps. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y.

Under and by virtue of an order of sale and decree of foreclosure and sale issued out of the Superior Court of the county of Alameda, of the State of California, on the 22nd day of September, A. D. 1897, in the above entitled action, wherein Central Bank, a corporation, the above named plaintiff, obtained a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale against Elsie Ann McElrath, J. E. McElrath, her husband, Charles Delmue, J. W. Kesler, W. G. Hawkett, Mary M. Cornwall, James Moffitt, Louis P. Lusk and George Jund, defendants, on the 18th day of September, A. D. 1897, for the sum of thirteen thousand three hundred and seventy-five and 28-100 dollars, in United States gold coin, together with interest, costs and attorney fees, aggregating in all the sum of $16,781.19 at the date of said decree, and wherein there was found to be due the defendant Louis P. Lusk upon the judgment set forth and described in the answer of said defendant Lusk the sum of $535.38, and to the defendant George Jund upon the judgment set forth and described in the answer of defendant Jund the sum of $2,224.67, and that the lien of the judgments of defendants Lusk and Jund are subordinate and inferior to the lien of plaintiff, which said judgment and decree was, on the 22d day of September, A. D. 1897, recorded in Judgment Book No. 28 of said Court, at page 547, I am commanded to sell all those certain lots, pieces or parcels of land, situate, lying and being in the Alden Tract at Temescal, county of Alameda, State of California, and bounded and described as follows, to-wit:

Lots numbers six (6), seven (7), eight (8), eleven (11), twelve (12), thirteen (13), fourteen (14), fifteen (15), twenty-five (25), twenty-six (26), twenty-nine (29), thirty (30), thirty-one (31), in block 2103; lots two (2), three (3), seven (7), eight (8), nine (9), fourteen (14), thirty-nine (39), forty (40), forty-one (41), in block 2109; lots numbers nine (9), fifteen (15), thirty-eight (38), thirty-nine (39), in block 2110; lot number twenty-three (23), in block No. 2113; lot number thirteen (13) and lot number fourteen (14), in block 2097; lots numbers three (3), four (4), five (5), fourteen (14), in block No. 2099; lots numbers nineteen (19), twenty (20), twenty-one (21), twenty-two (22), in block No. 2107; lots numbers eleven (11) and eighteen (18), in block No. 2116; lots numbers eleven (11) and twelve (12), in block No. 2118; the west 28.39 feet of lot number thirty-eight (38), in block No. 2101, as the said lots and blocks are laid down and delineated upon a certain map entitled "Map of the Alden Tract at Temescal, Subdivided According to the General Plan of Streets, W. F. Boardman, County Surveyor, etc., etc.," filed December 10th, 1869, in the office of the County Recorder of said Alameda county.

Public notice is hereby given that on

TUESDAY, THE 19TH DAY OF OCTOBER, 1897,

At 10 o'clock A. M. of that day, in front of the Broadway entrance of the Court House of the county of Alameda, in the city of Oakland, I will, in obedience to said order of sale and decree of foreclosure and sale, sell the above described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to raise sufficient money to satisfy said judgment, with interest and costs, etc., to the highest and best bidder, for gold coin of the United States.

Oakland, Cal., Sept. 24th, 1897.

J. B. LANKTREE,
A Commissioner appointed by said Superior Court.

METCALF & METCALF, Attorneys for Plaintiff, 960 Broadway, Oakland.

ADJUDICATION OF INSOLVENCY

In the Superior Court of the county of Alameda, State of California.

In the matter of Adam T. Green, insolvent debtor.

Adam T. Green having filed in this Court his petition, schedule and inventory in insolvency, by which it appears that he is an insolvent debtor, the said Adam T. Green is hereby declared to be insolvent.

The Sheriff of the county of Alameda is hereby directed to take possession of all the estate, real and personal, of the said insolvent debtor, except such as may be by law exempt from execution, and of all his deeds, vouchers, books of account and papers, and to keep the same safely until the appointment of an assignee herein.

All persons are forbidden to pay any debts to the said insolvent debtor, or to deliver any property belonging to said insolvent debtor to him, or to any person, firm or corporation, or association for his use.

The said debtor is hereby forbidden to transfer or deliver any property, until the further order of this Court, except as herein ordered.

It is further ordered, that all the creditors of said debtor whose claims shall have been placed on file in the office of the Clerk of this Court at least two days prior to the 8th day of October, 1897, be and appear before the Judge of the Superior Court, of the county of Alameda, State of California, in open Court, at the Court-room of said Court, Department No. 1, in the county of Alameda, on the said 8th day of October, 1897, at 10 o'clock A. M. of that day, to prove their debts and choose an assignee of the estate of said debtor.

It is further ordered, that this order be published in Oakland Tribune, a newspaper of general circulation, published in the county of Alameda, as often as the said newspaper is printed before the said day set for the meeting of creditors.

And it is further ordered, that, in the meantime, all proceedings against the said insolvent debtor be stayed.

Dated September 29, 1897.

F. B. OGDEN,
Judge of the Superior Court.

TO ADMINISTER THE APEL ESTATE.

Deceased Was a Member of the Well-known Valerga Family.

Was to Have Been Prima Donna at the Oakland for the Season

August Apel has petitioned to be appointed administrator of the estate of the late Caterina Apel, who died in San Francisco about two weeks ago. The estate consists of a lot with a dwelling thereon valued at about $2,000, which had been acquired before her marriage to the petitioner about a year ago.

The heirs of the deceased are the husband, the father, Barthalmy Valerga, the mother, Antoinette Valerga, Ida and Tillie Valerga and Mrs. N. Zolper, four brothers, Frank, Robert, Lawrence, Thomas, John and Peter Valerga, all of whom with the exception of John, reside in this county. John Valerga is a resident of San Francisco.

The deceased was well known and highly esteemed in this city. She was a member of the Valerga family, all the members of which have been long identified with the operatic stage both in this city and San Francisco. She was married originally to a man named Marchi who died some years ago after a long illness. About a year ago she married a man named Apel, a co-heirst, of San Francisco. Two weeks ago yesterday she died after a short illness. The announcement of her death was received with a great deal of regret by her friends in this city.

She was to have been the prima donna in the operatic season which is to be opened in the Oakland theater the latter part of this month.

IDEAS OF GEORGE.

The Would-Be Mayor of New York Sets Forth His Views.

HE BELIEVES IN FREE TRADE.

Single Tax Would Be a Great Benefit to the People.

HIS OPINION ON FREE SILVER.

Differs Radically From W. J. Bryan on the Money Question.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—"I am willing to express myself clearly on all the questions at issue," said Henry George today. "My plan of campaign is to tell the truth. I have nothing to conceal. The fact that I am a candidate for Mayor will not cause me to change any of my views. My opinions are founded on principles that are not to be changed because of the campaign.

"I am a free trader. It may prevent some persons from supporting me. If so, I can't help it. I am not adjusting my views to the exigencies of a political canvass. What I believe to be for the best for the country and the people I shall advocate. I am a free trader pure and simple. I recognize no difference between a national and a municipal campaign so far as honest politics are concerned. In both cases we want honest men who believe in an honest administration of the laws.

"This is why I say the men are right who went before the Grand Jury asking for an indictment of the tax commissioners and if they keep on fighting they will surely win.

"The Central Labor Union has assumed an impregnable position. It demands that the laws shall be enforced without respect to the wealth and position of the individuals against whom the charges have been made.

"And right here the principles of single tax come into play. The insurance cases are particularly pertinent just now. The Central Labor Union claims, as I understand, that the Equitable Life Insurance Company valued its property at $12,000,000 in its return made to the State Insurance Board at Albany. But when the local New York assessor came around, it put in its valuable property at $2,000,000. With single tax in force these robberies and corruption of men in office would be avoided.

"But why should I go on to illustrate? These questions have been discussed and spread broadcast in our literature. It has been shown that most of the present evils are the result of political conspiracy and crime.

"In regard to the silver question, I have nothing to conceal. I say now what I said repeatedly during the Bryan campaign: 'That, while I was supporting that gentleman and would vote his ticket, I was not a believer in the theory that silver was a remedy for the evils that beset the country.'

"I shall discuss the silver question exactly as I discused it during the Presidential campaign. We have nothing to present but the truth. We have no schemes; no secret policies; no political traps for our enemies—nothing but the cold, naked truth. On these lines we shall make our fight. If our enemies can meet us on the platform in public debate, or wherever they care to discuss the issues before the voters, they will at least show that they are sincere in what they call their convictions.

"I am well satisfied with the beginning we have made. The young men on our committees are able and enthusiastic. The Cooper Institute meeting will be a success, judging from the reports coming in from our friends, coming to us from the ranks from the different parties.

"In my speech at the Cooper Institute on Thursday evening I shall speak freely, avoiding no questions which politicians are handling so gingerly. I am a free trader and on that line I shall fight it out. If I am defeated, it will not alter my principles, nor change my views. I believe that single tax will bring prosperity and equalize the burdens that now oppress humanity, bearing heavily on the poor and lightly on the favored rich."

FLAMES MARCHING LIKE AN ARMY.

People in Dakota Bravely Fight to Save Their Homes From Destruction.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

RAPID CITY, S. D., Oct. 4.—Serious fires have been raging north and south of this place for four days and the citizens are exhausted from fighting the flames to save their homes. All night, 600 men made a desperate stand against the line of fire approaching from the north and finally succeeded in saving the town, though many farmhouses were burned. The fire had approached within two miles of Rapid City. It had been burning for four days in the heaviest timbered part of the Black Hills. It was swept toward Rapid City in a solid sheet of flame two miles wide. From various points in Nebraska come reports of disastrous fires. Much farm property has been destroyed.

Much stock has perished. The woods and prairies are very dry, no rain having fallen here for two months.

A BANK TELLER DROPS OUT OF SIGHT.

His Friends Say They Cannot Tell Why He Has Gone Away.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

DENVER, Oct. 4.—Ralph P. Newton, assistant receiving teller in the First National Bank of this city, is missing. He disappeared last Wednesday. The circumstances surrounding his leave are unexplained by his relatives and friends. Persons connected with the bank in which he was employed say that all of his accounts are straight there. Thursday morning he failed to show up for work and up to the present time nothing whatever has been heard from him.

PROPOSED PARK SITE INSPECTED.

Councilmen and Citizens Visit the Sather Tract.

Much Praise for the Beautiful Location Is Expressed by All.

Some of the City Council and several members of the Board of Trade made a visit yesterday to the Sather tract in Indian Gulch, which has been offered to the city for park purposes. In the party were: Councilmen Cuvellier, Earl, Heitmann, Girard, Henneberry and Fibush, City Clerk Tompkins, Harry Thomas, Secretary of the Board of Public Works, E. C. Sessions, W. W. Whitman, D. C. Brown, F. M. Farwell, Major J. E. McElrath, E. P. Vandercook, E. W. Woodward, C. B. Bates, W. S. Baxter, Hugh M. Cameron, W. G. Palmantier, J. F. W. Sohst and Carl Sohst.

The carriages left the City Hall at 10:30 A. M. The route taken lay over Vernon Heights and around Lake Merritt, then up Indian Gulch through Trestle Glen.

It was suggested that a great public picnic be held at the grounds, so as to give every one a chance to form his own opinion as to the suitableness of the site.

The members of the party were enthusiastic in expressing themselves in favor of the location.

Said E. C. Sessions: "This is the best kind of church service for Sundays. We are getting a place where the poor man may spend his Sundays and holidays with his family out of doors."

Captain Wright offered to put up $10,000 if several other gentlemen would do the same to buy the site.

D. C. Brown thought the site splendid.

J. W. Tompkins gave this as his opinion: "The city should be bonded by a large enough sum to provide money for the purchase of a site such as this, and also to provide for the construction of other much needed public improvements. No first class city gets along now without a considerable bonded debt."

W. S. Baxter thought the place an ideal one for a park.

W. W. Whitman predicted that the place would become, in connection with the boulevard, one of the finest parks in the world.

Aaron Fibush said that with a park the people would stay at home.

E. C. Cuvellier explained himself in favor of the place, should no more desirable offer be made.

George J. Earl was agreeably surprised with the beauty of the scenery.

It is interesting to know that over 200 acres of the same site were in 1871 proposed as a location for a park. This information was given by E. C. Sessions.

A committee comprising Dr. Samuel Merritt, H. D. Bacon, H. C. Lee, Elisha Bigelow, General R. W. Kirkham, James Gamble and N. W. Spaulding was agitating the question, and the members themselves raised $10,000 towards the park. Roads were graded, and trees planted. There is a tract of land twenty acres in extent at the head of the lake, filled in by the washing of the tide, which, though now held by squatters' claims, belongs to the city. This would form an admirable entrance to the park.

SHIPPING GOLD IN LARGE QUANTITIES.

A New Plan Suggested by the Successful Miners of Colorado.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Oct. 4.—A novel scheme for handling the gold output of the Cripple Creek mines will be put into use by the operators of that district.

The plan is to set aside the output for one month, take the bullion therefrom and ship it to the United States Mint at Philadelphia in a single consignment. A special train will be secured for the purpose of transporting it. The bullion will be placed in the charge of some express company which can guarantee its safety and necessary precautions taken to prevent accident or theft while the consignment is in transit.

As the present output of Cripple Creek is over $1,000,000 per month, this will be one of the largest shipments of gold bullion that ever crossed the continent.

END OF AN HONORABLE AND USEFUL CAREER.

Senator McMillan Passes Away After a Long Illness.

In His Time He Filled Many Very Important Offices.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 4.—Samuel J. P. McMillan, U. S. Senator from 1878 to 1888, died at his home in this city last night from anaemia. He had been ill for nearly a year.

Senator McMillan was born in Brownsville, Pa., February 22, 1826. Choosing law for a profession, he studied in the office of Edwin M. Stanton, afterward Secretary of War. In 1852 he removed to Stillwater, Minn., removing to St. Paul in 1856. He continued his practice until 1858, when he was elected Judge of the first judicial district. In 1864 he was appointed associate justice of the Supreme Court, and in the same year he was elected for the full term of seven years. He was re-elected in 1871, and in 1874 chosen Chief Justice.

In February, 1875, he was elected to the U. S. Senate as a result of one of the most noted deadlocks in the history of the State. Ex-Governor Ramsey was the Republican caucus nominee, and Cushman K. Davis, the present Senator, was a boiling candidate. McMillan was elected on a narrow margin, after a prolonged contest. In 1881 he was re-elected. While in the Senate he was chairman of the committee on claims and succeeded Roscoe Conkiln as chairman of the commerce committee. He was also a member of the judiciary and revolutionary war claims committees. On his retirement from the Senate he resumed his law practice and afterward held no office. A year ago he was one of the leading spirits in putting a stop to prize-fighting in Minnesota. He was prominent in the Presbyterian Church, and in 1890 was chosen one of the two men from the West on the committee of revision of the confession of faith of that body.

KEEN HUNT FOR THAT BACON STOCK.

Mrs. Frank Bacon Thinks It Is in the Hands of Pierson and Mitchell.

Judge Ellsworth Says He Cannot Go Outside of Parties to the Suit.

The attorneys for F. P. Bacon achieved a victory in one branch of the case in which that gentleman is sued by his wife, Mrs. M. E. Bacon. The defendant had at the time the suit was begun 3333 1-3 shares of stock in the Bacon Land and Loan Company, and of this amount Judge Ellsworth ordered that 5,000 shares be turned over to the receiver, V. H. Metcalf, for the benefit of the wife. At the same time he ordered that $250 per month be paid for the support of the woman and her children. Thus far, however, no alimony has been received by the defendant.

As soon as the order of the court for the turning over of the stock was made, the receiver and the attorney for Mrs. Bacon sought for Bacon to have him turn over the stock in question. Bacon, however, had a way of disappearing and he put it into practice in so capable a manner that he could not be found by either the attorney or the receiver. Then an injunction was granted restraining the defendant from selling any of the 5,000 shares of stock referred to.

Then the petitioner came into court again and stated that she believed that the stock in the controversy was in the possession of Pierson & Mitchell, the attorneys for the defendant, and that they were holding on to it for the purpose of securing them for the services which were given the defendant in the conduct of the suit.

She also showed that they had refused to turn the stock over to the receiver. She asked therefore that the attorneys in question, Pierson & Mitchell, be compelled to show cause why they should not turn over the stock to Mr. Metcalf.

The question came up this morning before Judge Ellsworth and the motion was denied. The court held that Pierson & Mitchell were not parties to the suit and that they could not be brought into it by a motion of the kind made. This decision was in accordance with the answer of the attorneys, who also held that the court did not have jurisdiction in the case.

If it shall turn out that the 5,000 shares of stock shall not be turned over to the receiver, and the transfer to Pierson & Mitchell is declared legal, the effect will be that all of the available property of Bacon has passed out of Bacon's hands and the hope of alimony for Mrs. Bacon now unay money for Mrs. Bacon will be rather discouraging.

It is understood that another means of reaching, if possible, securing the stock, will be soon attempted.

TOO ACTIVE WITH HIS GUN.

A Denverite Hunting for Thieves Shoots Down an Honest Citizen.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

DENVER, Oct. 4.—About 10 o'clock last night, Thomas H. Burch shot and instantly killed Thomas Martin. The shooting occurred on a ranch owned by Burch about four miles north of here. Burch was watching for thieves who had been stealing apples from his orchard, and, thinking Martin to be one of the thieves, he fired at him with a double-barreled shotgun.

Burch is prominent in the city and is well to do. He gave himself up.

SPORTS BALKED JUST BEFORE A MILL.

St. Louis Police Will Not Allow Prize-Fights to Take Place.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 4.—An attempt was made yesterday afternoon to bring off a pugilistic encounter on the river between Billy Mahan of San Francisco and Bromlow Sexton of this city. The pugilists left Saturday night for the battle ground, hoping to avoid the police. When the boat which was to take the sports to the grounds, attempted to leave the dock, twenty policemen went aboard and ordered the sports back on shore, threatening them with arrest. This failure will put an end to fights in and about this city. The sports hoped on recent decision in the courts here to be able to pull off a fight once in a while.

WOLCOTT AGREES WITH PRESIDENT M'KINLEY.

Views of Senator Shoup on the Present Conference on Money.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Speaking of Wolcott's monetary commission, Senator Shoup of Idaho said today that, while he was not at all certain of Wolcott's success, he was hopeful, and recent correspondence indicated that Mr. Wolcott himself was greatly encouraged. One thing he felt perfectly confident of was that the administration was sincerely supporting Mr. Wolcott in his effort, and would indorse his action. As to the possibility of Mr. Wolcott's supporting a proposition which the administration would have to reject, he said that there was a thorough understanding between the President and the commission.

Police Court Continuances.

The case against J. E. Tibbetts, charged with obtaining money from J. G. Castlen under false pretenses, has gone over till tomorrow to be set.

John Milcovich, the restaurant man, charged with battery, has been granted till October 11th to plead.

Martin Feeley, the youthful runaway and petit larcenist, will be tried tomorrow.

The case against Fred Springer, who was arrested at his home on Twenty-sixth street, between Grove street and San Pablo avenue, for disturbing the peace, has gone over till tomorrow to allow the filing of a complaint. The arrest was the result of a family quarrel.

A MOTHER WEEPS OVER HER SON.

Mrs. Cardoza's Young Husband Is Arraigned for Perjury.

Pathetic Scene in the Court When the Lad Appeared in the Dock.

There was a painful scene in the Police Court this morning at the arraignment of George Varges, alias Bert Courant, on a charge of perjury.

Varges is the young man who, in taking out a license for the marriage of himself and 14-year-old Mary Nunes Cardoza, swore that the girl was over 18 years of age.

It is alleged that the girl was forced into the marriage by Varges and her mother. A couple of days after the wedding the girl left her home and placed herself under the protection of the Children's Society. Then Varges left for parts unknown and Colonel Dimpfel of Society swore to a warrant charging him with perjury.

Varges was located Saturday in Hanford, Tulare county, and yesterday he was brought back to this city by officer Bert Curtiss.

At the arraignment this morning the parents of Varges were present, and Mrs. Varges was overcome by grief. She made a frantic effort to reach her son in the dock, and it was found necessary for officer Curtiss to lead her from the courtroom.

Judge Allen has fixed the young man's bonds at $2,000, but it is not likely that he will secure them. He will be examined Wednesday.

TROUBLE AMONG ATHLETES

An Upheaval Seems Imminent in University Athletic Circles.

Trouble is rife among the football players at Berkeley, and not only internally but a strong antagonism is felt against them among the student body.

One of the first signs of foreboding trouble was the appearance of Eugene Sheehy, the old Olympic guard at the California and Reliance game in San Francisco Saturday. He was in ordinary clothes and smoked a cigarette, contrary to training rules. It is said that Sheehy has announced his intention to play in no game, not even, excepting the Thanksgiving match.

It seems that the source of the trouble lies in the great sophmore-freshman rush. It was announced by Captain Haskell that any participation in the event by football men would result in the forfeiture of their rights to compete for football honors. This announcement caused no little displeasure among football men. Eight or ten ignored the injunction and rushed with a great deal of spirit. Six were consequently dropped from the roll. This caused a general howl of disapproval, and the Captain was severely criticized.

There is still another phase of the trouble. Haskell, as quarter-back, has not been playing as brilliant a game as he did last year. His management has also been criticized.

The Executive Athletic Committee meet today. It includes Football Manager Everett Brown, Professor Walter Magee of the physical culture department, Colonel Edwards, representing the faculty, and a member from each of the four classes.

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." To prevent colds and rheumatism, when you have got wet or chilled, use promptly a little of the famous old Jesse Moore Whiskey.

A DIFFERENCE OF TWO CENTS ON THE TON.

Looking for a Compromise in Wyoming Miners' Strike.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

DIAMONDVILLE, Wyo., Oct. 4.—Striking miners at this place are still out, although, at the present time, the difference between their demands and the price the operators are willing to pay is but two cents a ton. The companies offer 48 cents a ton and agree to weigh the coal on top, including slack and other refuse. The miners demand 50 cents. They have heretofore been paid seventy cents, the coal being weighed after passing over an inch and a quarter screen, which took out about 25 per cent of the gross weight. It is expected a compromise will be reached in a few days and the mines started.

READY TO SHED BLOOD

A Fighting Pastor With a Shot Gun Within Reach.

STANDING OFF UNION MEN.

A Parsonage Going Up and Agitators Kept at Bay.

A FIGHT FOR HIS NEIGHBORS.

Lively Times in the Flock of the Denverside Community.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 4.—Rev. R. J. Kellogg, pastor of a little Congregational church in Denverside, not far from East St. Louis, on the Illinois side of the river, is building a parsonage under the protection of a double-barrelled shotgun.

The Rev. Mr. Kellogg was formerly pastor of the Summit avenue M. E. Church of East St. Louis. He put $600 of his money into the Denverside building and was ordered to turn it over and go elsewhere. The Congregationalists bought the church and he was made its permanent pastor. He wanted a parsonage. The congregation was too poor to build him one. He said he would build it himself with what help he could get from the congregation and others.

Last Monday, a week ago, A. C. Palmer, an officer of the Carpenters' Union, demanded that non-union men be discharged and union men taken in their places.

"I have no objection to employing union men," said Rev. Kellogg, "but I will not discharge my neighbors to make a place for others."

Friday night, while at work alone on the parsonage, Mr. Kellogg was assaulted by a gang of seven men, who compelled him to discontinue work for the time being. He secured a shotgun and hereafter he will take it to the building and keep it handy for instant use, should his assailants make another attack on him. These facts became public to-day when Rev. Kellogg went to East St. Louis and applied for warrants.

BOOTH WELCOMED.

Commander of the Volunteers of America Speaks in San Francisco.

Ballington Booth, the commander-in-chief of the Volunteers of America, is again in California and was given quite an ovation last night at the Metropolitan Temple in San Francisco on the occasion of his first public appearance in that city as the leader of the Volunteers.

When he visited the coast before he represented the Salvation Army.

An immense audience was gathered to welcome Mr. Booth and the intense enthusiasm of the people was shown by the cheers and waving of handkerchiefs which greeted him when he appeared upon the platform.

With him were Brevet-Major Fred Gardner and wife of New York, J. J. Valentine, I. J. Truman and officers of various regiments.

The services began with a hymn, then a prayer was offered by Brevet-Major Gardner. A vocal solo by Wheaton Leonard and a selection on the concertina by Commander Booth followed.

A brief welcoming speech was made by Chairman Truman, who introduced John J. Valentine, who, in turn, after a short address, introduced the speaker and hero of the evening, Commander Ballington Booth.

Applause was renewed and for some moments Booth was unable to make himself heard above the hand-clapping.

When at last he spoke, he gave a brief history of the institution of which he is so well beloved a leader and told of his withdrawal from the Salvation Army and the causes of his act. In all his speech he said nothing against the Army and on occasions praised it.

The programme of his tour includes a visit to Oakland, to which this city's branch of the Volunteers is looking forward eagerly.

TRYING TO SAVE BOYS AND GIRLS.

Coming Convention of a Society With Laudable Ends in View.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

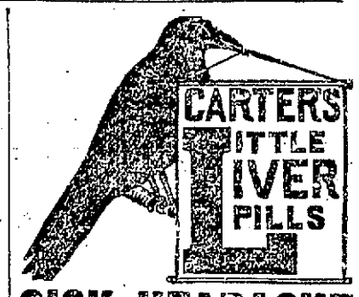

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 4.—A call has been issued for the eighth annual convention of the Boys' and Girls' National Home and Employment Association to be held in this city on December 14th and 15th. The Association was organized some years ago for the purpose of ascertaining the nature and extent of crime among youth, its origin, and if possible to furnish a remedy for its suppression. The call for the convention is signed by a number of the leading men of the city including the governor and mayor, also by a number of the leading business firms and the four daily newspapers.

MAY FEEL HUNGRY BUT WON'T STARVE.

W. M. Rank Sends Some News From the Clondyke Country.

W. M. Rank is one of the few who sends down an encouraging word from the Clondyke country. Mr. Rank has successfully poled up the Yukon as far as Circle City, where he went to purchase a dog team and outfit. He was at last accounts daily expected to return to where McGraw and Carr were camped and join them.

The canoe trip which the gentleman have undertaken is said to be a dangerous one, but it is practically the only way that the Clondyke can be reached this fall. In letters recently received from Mr. Rank he seeks to dispel the idea that there is any danger of death from starvation in the far north this winter. He has repeatedly said that while there may be a shortage of food, no actual suffering will be heard of.

THE FIGHTERS READY.

Dixon and Smith Are in Excellent Condition for Tonight's Battle.

Tonight, at Woodward's Pavilion, champion George Dixon and Solly Smith, the great feather weights, will meet in the roped arena to do battle for the championship of the world.

Both men are confident of success, and both are in the pink of condition. They are read to fight as neither has fought before, and it is the concensus of opinion that the contest will not last the twenty rounds.

Dixon has been training at Alameda, and he concluded his work yesterday afternoon. He weighed in at 118¾ pounds. The men are to tip the beam at 120 pounds at the ring-side.

Smith says he has been waiting three years for a return match with the ebony hued bruiser, and that he will have no difficulty in proving himself the better man. He fully realizes that he is to meet one of the best fighters that the world has ever produced, but he says he is fully prepared to make the fight of his life.

A large number of Oakland sports will attend the fight this evening, and it is said that considerable money from this side of the bay will change hands on the result.

A YOUNG BRIDE WANTS TO GO HOME.

Unhappy Condition of Mrs. Tate Who Longs for Native Ireland.

Mrs. Catherine Tate, who was married but a month ago, is so overcome with a desire to return to her native Ireland that her reason is impaired.

She is now a patient at the East Bay Sanitarium, and her condition was such yesterday morning that Dr. Hoagland of Berkeley, who treated the woman before she was taken to the hospital, called up the Receiving Hospital steward to inquire as to the necessary steps to be taken to have a person examined as to sanity. It was decided not to have her taken before the commissioners, and instead she was removed to the hospital, where she now is.

After her removal she seemed to be in an easier state of mind, though she continually talks of home and Ireland, and wants to be sent there.

AN IDIOTIC BOY RELEASED IN COURT.

Was Charged With Battery but Is Not Responsible for His Acts.

William Memyer, a simple minded youth of 19 years, was arrested yesterday for using vulgar language and battery. It seems that he slapped a boy who had been teasing him. In the Police Court this morning Memyer showed unmistakable evidences of idiocy, and spent his time while on the witness stand in distorting his mouth and grinning at the Judge, who decided to release him. Memyer could not be induced to remove his hat while in the court-room.

GOOD NEWS FOR RAILROAD MEN.

Strikers of Three Years Ago Will Receive Their Old Positions.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

BUTLER, Ind., Oct. 4.—During the railroad strike of 1894 large numbers of Wabash employes were laid off and their applications for reinstatement have not been heeded. It is now given out here on good official authority that all the old men will be taken back as rapidly as possible. This will mean the reinstatement of several hundred men over the entire system.
